Joint Chiefs Of Staff Are Merely Exchanging Views

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Admiral Louis Denfeld said today that the U. S. joint chiefs of staff talks with European military leaders have not concerned "standardization of arms or overall command."

Denfeld, chief of naval operations, U. S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar N. Bradley and Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg met today with Danish and Norwegian military leaders.

Gen. Bradley said that the current discussions "assumed for the time being the United States will have to do strategic bombing because at the moment we are the only ones who can do it."

Gen. Ole Berg, Norwegian chief of staff, declared that "we are finding a very good solution for our problem."

Exchange Of Views

After the London meeting, Denfeld said:

"All we sought here was an exchange of views and that's what we got. We reached a complete understanding in such an exchange."

"No decisions were reached since that's up to Washington. Our report will contain new ideas presented in the talks."

"There were no discussions on standardization of arms or overall command."

The joint chiefs, currently touring western Europe to coordinate the defenses of Atlantic Pact members, resume their meetings in Paris later today.

A wee lad of possibly four or five years of age was observed in the downtown section of the city wearing a sweater emblazoned "Penn State 1964." Evidently the dad who was escorting the lad is an alumnus of the school.

Former Communist Leader Speaks At Catholic Day Outing At Cascade

Huge Crowd Attends Event—Excellent Program Is Well Carried Out

Lawrence county held its second annual Catholic day on Wednesday at Cascade Park.

It will be marked as a great success. Early as 9 a. m., the crowd began to arrive to register from within the county area, and by late evening, it is estimated that around the expected 40,000 persons jammed the park. In fact even the weatherman cooperated—aside from a brief shower in early evening.

Following the picnic in the grove, afternoon events were chalked off in rapid succession: the sports programs with races for all ages; free rides enjoyed by the kiddies; and free refreshments distributed.

In the evening, the speakers program was the highlight. Louis Budenz, professor of Fordham

Taylor Township Fire Department Will Get Truck

During the regular meeting of the Taylor Township Volunteer Fire Department held Wednesday evening in the fire hall, announcement was made by the purchasing committee headed by Michael Kessler chief and James Vessella, that the company has purchased a new truck, a KB7 chassis which is to be outfitted with fire equipment at the factory.

The truck is at the factory now and in a period of 90 days will be ready for use in the fire department at West Pittsburg. Reports were given on the fund raising campaign, with good progress noted. The firemen will participate in the West Pittsburg homecoming period which will take place next week.

Congressman Will Ask If Steelman Interceded On Loan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Rep. Albert M. Cole (R) Kans., said today he will ask the Lustron Corp., whether presidential assistant Johnny Steelman interceded to obtain a government loan for the company.

Cole said he wants to know whether it is true that Steelman interceded with the Reconstruction Finance Corp., after that agency turned down a Lustron request for a loan.

The Lustron Corp., a Columbus, Ohio, concern, manufactures prefabricated homes. Cole said the RFC has given it at least $32,500,000 in loans.

President To Disclose China Policy Of U. S.

Declares U. S. Policy Toward China Has Been Distorted And Misrepresented

'WHITE PAPER' WILL BE ISSUED FRIDAY

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Truman declared today that United States policy toward China has been distorted and misrepresented and he is now ready to publish a summary of relations between the two countries.

The president told a news conference that the United States has previously suppressed "certain facts" on China because publication of them might have "served to hasten the events in China which have now occurred."

To Be Presented Friday

Mr. Truman said that the "white paper" on U. S. policy in the Far East, which the State Department

'Five Percenter' Public Inquiry Opens Monday

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Senate investigators of "five percenters" said today that their public inquiry will open with an airing of alleged army contract "irregularities" which led to suspension of two major generals.

Sen. Hoey (D) N. C., chairman of the investigating committee, indicated that public hearings will begin Monday as scheduled despite the illness of James V. Hunt, whose reported activities touched off the probe.

Hunt, a Washington "management consultant," was taken to the hospital yesterday for an operation for a removal of a blood clot in his leg.

Committee probes are putting the finishing touches on their undercover inquiry into activities of alleged influence sellers who collect fees for helping businessmen obtain government contracts.

Will Show Cause

The so-called "army phase" of the hearing presumably will show why Army Secretary Gordon Gray

Lawrence County Fugitive From Rockview Taken

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—A prisoner today made his escape from Rockview penitentiary at Bellefonte on horseback, almost a week after another convict rode to temporary freedom on a tractor.

George Mack, 28, from Bradford county, was hauling manure this morning with a wagon and two horses when he unhitched the animals and rode one of them off prison farm property. He released the horse and slipped into the woods.

Mack was serving 6 to 13 years for forgery and conspiracy. Meanwhile, West Virginia authorities reported capture of the mechanized escapee, Robert Clark, of Lawrence county, at Clarksburg. Clark escaped from Rockview Friday when he drove off in a tractor. The tractor was found Sunday. Clark stole automobiles to carry him into West Virginia, where he was arrested on two counts of auto theft, officials said.

'Miss America' Wants American Husband

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Miss America wants it clearly understood that her future husband will be a "Mr. America"—and not a smooth-talking English lord or a smooth-talking continental Romeo.

Miss Bebe Shopp, now on a tour of Britain and Europe, said today she is disturbed by misinterpretations of a statement she made earlier to the effect that she wanted to meet a real live English earl.

Curiously, explained the statuette, the statement was behind her request. She told International News Service:

"I understand I'm being criticized by Americans who felt I'm seeking a husband from the British peerage. That's not true. I have no intention of marrying an English lord or anyone over here."

"I'm just a tourist and I'm not husband hunting."

Bebe, who has been on a hectic tour of London these past few days, heads for Stratford-on-Avon tonight to see a production of Macbeth.

Last night, "Miss America" took a guided tour of the capital, saw the crown jewels, attended a U. S. embassy reception and tumbled wearily into bed.

Truman Would Compromise On Arms Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—President Truman today agreed to compromise on certain phases of the arms-for-friends program.

Mr. Truman told a news conference he is not concerned with the so-called "blank check" presidential powers contained in the legislation. Congress has criticized the broad powers granted Mr. Truman and demanded curbs.

The president indicated he is willing to accept modifications in this respect.

But he emphasized that he was not prepared to compromise on the amount of money called for by the program—one billion, 450 million dollars—or the speed with which it should be provided.

Mr. Truman declared that his concern is to see that adequate aid is furnished to the western European democracies with the utmost speed.

He said that such matters as the wording of the measure and the so-called "blank check" powers enabling the president to grant arms aid to any country he saw fit is not important.

Mr. Truman said flatly he is not concerned about that or what he termed other legislative phases of the bill as now written.

French Officers Seek To Roundup Bandits Who Robbed Aga Khan

NICE, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Hundreds of French police, detectives and border guards scoured the swank Riviera today for four daring bandits who ambushed the enormously wealthy Aga Khan and his beautiful wife yesterday and robbed them at gun-point of $600,000 in gems.

Road blocks were thrown up and manned in the Cannes area, and seaports and airports were closely watched to guard against a sea or air escape by the gang.

Helicopter Rescues Injured Boy On Top Of Mountain

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif., Aug. 4.—(INS)—A helicopter pilot today successfully rescued a boy who has been lying injured in the Sierra wilderness for more than four days.

The helicopter, piloted by Jay Demming, flew into Lake Benson north of Yosemite National Park shortly after dawn this morning and landed near the spot where 12-year-old Terence "Kayo" Hallinan, son of a prominent San Francisco attorney, fractured his skull.

Park officials said the lad was tenderly lifted into the helicopter and flown to the base of rescue operations at White Wolf. Young Hallinan was taken by ambulance to the Lewis Memorial hospital in Yosemite Valley.

State Assembly Of Rainbow Order In Session Here

Approximately 1,000 Members Gather In City From All Parts Of State

FIRST SESSION THIS AFTERNOON

New Castle was invaded today, but it was a peaceful invasion, a horde of beautiful young women from the four corners of the state converging on the city for the Seventh Grand Assembly meeting of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls.

This will be the biggest convention yet held by the Grand Assembly as its numbers continue to grow, and significantly the first convention was also held here.

Everything was a hustle and bustle about The Castleton and The Cathedral this morning, as the finishing touches were being put on things in readiness for the opening this afternoon.

Miss Sartwell Presides

Miss Anne Sartwell, Grand Worthy Advisor, of Ellwood City, was on the scene at an early hour, drilling her grand officers for the opening session, which was scheduled to convene at 2 o'clock.

Preceding the trumpet call to order at 2:10 o'clock this afternoon, a band prelude was played by the band from Johnstown Assembly No. 35. This crack organization, composed entirely of girls, has been formed during the past six months, the Johnstown Assembly being instituted only late in the spring last year. They also have a crack choir, which they are hoping will be crowned state champions in the contest to be staged Saturday afternoon.

The call to order this afternoon will be given by Mrs. Beatrice Myers, District Deputy of District 2-A, following which Miss Marston Wheldon, of New Castle Assembly One, will welcome the girls in behalf of Rainbow, and Mayor John F. Haven will extend them the keys to the city in his official welcome. Mrs. Lois Sartwell, of Ellwood City, will preside as Mother Advisor. She is also the general chairman of the Grand Assembly.

Following the formal opening, there will be the presentation of the various officers, headed by Mrs. Charles E. Allen, of this city, the Supreme Deputy; and Miss Sartwell, the Grand Worthy Advisor; followed by the District Deputies, Grand Representatives, Grand Lecturers, and Past Grand Worthy Advisors; then the Worthy Advisors and Mother Advisors of the 39 assemblies in the state.

This will be followed by tributes to the National Anthem, the state flag, and the Rainbow flag.

The reports of the Grand Orator, announcement of committee appointments, and announcements by the Grand Recorder will conclude the afternoon session.

Initiation Tonight

This evening, the Grand Sessions will be continued, with Charles N. Marien, District Deputy of the Pittsburgh District giving the call to Order, and with Mrs. Esther Pollock, of Butler, District Deputy of 2-B, serving as Mother Advisor.

The feature of the evening program will be initiation of a large class of candidates from various assemblies in the state by the Grand Officers. This will be followed by the beautiful Rose Ceremony, which will be presented by Mrs. Marion D. Muirhead, Past Mother Advisor of Order Assembly No. 4, in Wilkensburg, the second oldest assembly in the state.

Only an inch from a little hole only an inch from glory, only an inch from the coveted match but it seems like the same old story. He putted his ball with the greatest of ease and the cup was but inches to go, but the gremlins crept in and put brakes on the pill, and the ride was a little bit slow. So he lost the match and he lost several bucks and the cup has a new place to stay, and my friend is replaying that nerve wracking hole, it's eighty-two, cooler today.

Break In Pipe Causes Accident At Bathing Pool

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—(INS)—A break in a pipe containing chlorine gas at a Los Angeles public swimming pool today left two persons in serious condition and six others hospitalized.

Twenty swimmers, most of them youngsters, were overcome by the deadly fumes at Pop's Willow Lake pool late yesterday. More than 100 persons were in swimming or around the water when the pipe burst.

Deny Pilots Permitted To Buzz Planes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—The Navy and Air Force emphatically denied today that their pilots are permitted to "buzz" civilian aircraft in training flights.

The denial was made in response to charges by David L. Behncke, head of the AFL Airlines Pilots association, that military planes are making "dogfights" "targets" in training "dogfights." Behncke said he is preparing "most violent" official protests.

The services cited regulations prohibiting military planes from flying within 1,000 feet of civilian aircraft and from engaging in any "erratic" flying in their vicinity.

Spokesmen said that two pilots, not identified, have been dishonorably discharged for violating the rules and molesting civilian aircraft.

The regulations state: "Pilots must bear in mind at all times that the average commercial plane is relatively 'blind.' Pilots shall not fly acrobatically or erratically in the vicinity of commercial or transport aircraft."

Gable-Goddard Episode Causes Some Speculation

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Hollywood buzzed today with speculation involving Paulette Goddard and Clark Gable.

The screen "he-man" took Paulette to dinner last night, then escorted her to the airport where she explained for Mexico City, but before Gable planted a farewell kiss and adorned her with a corsage.

The possible meaning of all this is what the gossips are speculating.

Miss Goddard reportedly has signed papers enabling Attorney Gregory Bantz to file suit in Los Angeles for divorce from actor Burgess Meredith, from whom she obtained a Mexican divorce a few months ago.

She is said to want a California decree in order to get a court decision on a property settlement.

Truman Says He Never Met Hunt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—President Truman said today that he has never met Col. James V. Hunt, whose alleged activities touched off the Senate investigation of Washington's influence-selling "five percenters."

Mr. Truman was told at his news conference that Hunt was reported to have ordered a large quantity of paper matches bearing the phrase "swiped from Harry Truman" from a St. Louis concern to distribute to friends.

The president said he did not know anything about the reporter's remark.

Electron microscopes can show particles of about one 8,000,000th of an inch in size.

FRENCH OFFICERS SEEK BANDITS WHO ROBBED AGA KHAN

with a pre-war Paris license plate, was found abandoned on a Cannes street last night.

Other than the vehicle, detectives had little to go by. All four of the holdup men, who brandished tommy guns and threatened to shoot the 74-year-old Moslem leader and his French wife, were masked.

The robbery took place three miles north of the Aga's Cannes villa, Yakymour. The Aga, his wife, the Begum, a chauffeur and a maid were en route to visit the Aga's son, Prince Aly Khan, and his daughter-in-law, film star Rita Hayworth, at Deauville.

The Aga and his wife said the bandits spoke in accents typical of southern France, and did not sound Italian or Spanish.

Third Robbery In Three Days

The precisely executed ambush was the third major robbery in France in three days. Police indicated that all three might possibly be the work of an international gang of criminals.

Two days ago four masked bandits robbed a Deauville jewelry establishment of $600,000 in gems. On Monday, gunmen took $80,000 from a French bank near Nice.

The shabbily-dressed bandits trained their lethal weapons on the car's occupants and speedily relieved the Begum of one of the world's most valuable private jewel collections. However, they overlooked a pearl necklace valued at a quarter of a million dollars.

The Begum, 42-year-old former winner of French beauty contests, said that the quartet's loot included a diamond bracelet valued at $109,000, a solitaire diamond ring worth $100,000 and two diamond bracelets worth together about $100,000.

The collection was insured for about $645,000.

PRESIDENT TO DISCLOSE CHINA POLICY OF U. S.

revealed will be made public tomorrow, will include the long-suppressed Wedemeyer report on China.

The controversial report, made by Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer in 1947, has been withheld by the State Department for nearly two years despite congressional demands for its publication.

Mr. Truman said that the State Department is publishing the detailed summary of the basis of American policy toward China at his request.

He said the summary is being made public at this time so that the government's policy toward the Far East "shall be based on informed and intelligent public opinion."

Mr. Truman said the summary would cover U. S. relations with China dating all the way back to 1844 in view of recent developments in the Far East.

The president said the volume will also include reports by Gen. George C. Marshall, wartime army chief of staff and former secretary of state, and Gen. Patrick Hurley, who resigned as a special envoy to China shortly after the end of the war in protest against U. S. policy.

Mr. Truman said that the "white paper" covers events in China that have taken place particularly in the past five years.

Deaths Of The Day

John P. Harris

John Philip Harris, aged 77, 416 Summer avenue, died at his residence, Wednesday noon following a heart attack suffered a short time previously.

Advance Guard Here Early

The advance guard of the order arrived last evening, when quite a number were registered at the hotel, but this morning, every train and bus disgorged a group of girls, who come from every section of the state. By noon, it was estimated that around 800 girls had arrived with more expected to come later in the day and tomorrow morning, swelling the number to around 1,000.

Friday morning's feature will be the election of the grand officers for 1950, and reports. At noon, Mrs. Allen, the supreme deputy, will preside at a luncheon for the district deputies and mother advisors in New Wilmington; and Miss Sartwell will preside at a luncheon for grand and past grand officers in the Castleton. Mrs. May Reuse, D.D. 1-A at Erie will give the call to order, and Miss Mary Grace Ambler, of Philadelphia, will be mother advisor.

The afternoon will be devoted to more pleasurable pursuits, with a splash party and picnic supper at Cascade Park.

Friday Evening

In the evening, the Grand Cross of Color Degree will be conferred, with Mrs. Evelyn McKibbin, P.M.A. New Castle One, giving the call to order, and Miss Betty Ludwig, of Philadelphia, D.D., of District 7, presiding as mother advisor. C. W. Herman Hess, of New Castle Assembly will be master of ceremonies, assisted by girls from New Castle, Ellwood City, and Beaver Falls assemblies.

Musical numbers will be rendered by Miss Marston Whielden, past grand worthy advisor, Miss Marie Olson, past grand soloist, and Miss Constance Branstetter, grand faith, all of the local assembly, with Miss Shirley Long, grand soloist, who is a member of North Boroughs Assembly No. 24, at Pittsburgh, and Miss Marie Olson, past grand soloist, giving the solo numbers.

The grand assembly sessions will conclude on Saturday morning, with competitive drill and choir contest in the afternoon, and the installation of the grand officers and grand ball Saturday evening, further details of which will be given later.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Allen was hostess to the district deputies at a pre-convention luncheon, when plans and problems were discussed with the state officers. The luncheon was held in New Wilmington.

nesday evening really brought about a transformation in that district. Intersections were well illuminated and it was easy for motorists to watch pedestrians crossing at various places.

Rather an unusual turn in weather conditions was noted this morning. Shortly after daybreak a heavy fog enveloped most of the district, and as late as 8 o'clock some sections of the city were still shrouded in fog.

State Highway department attaches have placed one of the traffic counting machines in position at the East Washington street railroad crossing. Motorists coming from three traffic routes, 422, 88 and 19 use the thoroughfare with traffic particularly heavy at that point.

Workmen were observed in the east side section of the city on Wednesday removing numerous old utility poles which were no longer needed. The removal makes quite an improvement on the various streets affected. The poles were cut off even with the ground rather than being dug up.

Installation of the new street lights in the vicinity of the court house on Wednesday necessitated the trimming of some of the large trees gracing the court house lawn. The tree branches almost obliterated the new lights in that section.

Several truckloads of mammoth concrete tiling for highway construction work passed through the city on Wednesday. The material headed in the general direction of the new highway work in progress on Route 422 east of the county. Only four of the long sewer pipe were transported on each truck.

Local residents who do not ride the city buses too frequently would appreciate signs in the downtown section, especially at Mill street and Washington, telling them where to board certain buses. This would eliminate much confusion. Pa New encountered one local minister Wednesday who stood at the corner of West Washington street and Jefferson street waiting for a hospital-bound bus which does not pass that corner any longer. The proper information was given to the minister.

Advertised For Bride; Received 1000 Replies

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Charles Donaldson praised newspaper advertising and wanted ads in particular today and for a very good reason.

The 22-year-old St. Joseph, Mo., roofer pointed to his bride to be, 18-year-old Irene Krebs, and said: "That's why I like the want ads."

Donaldson, who placed an ad for a bride in the St. Joseph News-Press, received nearly 1,000 replies. He admitted some of the applicants were humblers but he believes he got the cream of the crop.

He explained: "Brother, she's really five feet two, eyes of blue. She also has dark brown hair and weighs 105 pounds."

Donaldson plans a double wedding Saturday with his roofing partner, Orville Motinore, and the latter's 19-year-old fiancée, Dolores Haskuy, at Troy, Kans.

suddenly relieved Maj. Gens. Herman Feldman and Alden Waitt of their duties several weeks ago.

Feldman, army quartermaster general, and Waitt, chief of the chemical corps, were suspended on the basis of evidence turned up by the Senate committee's investigators.

The "Army phase" may also go into charges that Hunt offered to have an army order cancelled in return for a $25,000 fee.

The order was issued by Feldman and would have put the government in the business of supplying officers' uniforms at cost. Hunt is alleged to have approached uniform makers with the offer to have the order rescinded.

This matter is being investigated by the House also. Gray is expected to testify on it before a House Armed Services subcommittee tomorrow afternoon.

No Repealing Of War Excise Taxes During This Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—President Truman said today that Congress will give no consideration this year to repeal the wartime excise taxes.

The President told a news conference that repeal of excise taxes requires extensive study, which is now being conducted by governmental agencies, and should be considered as a whole rather than piecemeal.

This was a reversal of the President's recommendation in his recent mid-year economic report to Congress. In that report, Mr. Truman recommended that the excise tax on the transportation of goods be repealed. He did not recommend repeal of numerous other excise levies.

GIVE POULTRY RELIEF FROM EXCESSIVE HEAT

Since domestic poultry cannot stand temperatures over 100 degrees with a high relative humidity, try these suggestions for making the birds more comfortable.

Cold water can be used effectively and without too much expense. In uninsulated pens, spray the under side of roofs with garden hose, the nozzle turned to a fine spray. Heaviest mortality from heat prostration occurs in uninsulated pens.

Extra waterers also help. During the heat, birds crowd around and prevent others from reaching these receptacles. Electric fans installed in the pens afford relief and cold water sprayed directly on the birds will aid the situation.

Some poultrymen have found that putting lime on the roof or white washing has helped. Birds can die quickly in uninsulated pens during intense heat.

Believe Nation May Be Pulling Out Of Business Recession

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Government economists speculated today whether a "significant" increase in industrial employment indicates that the nation is pulling out of the 1949 business recession.

Labor Secretary Tobin declared in a speech at Boston that business is on the upgrade and predicted that the slump—at least on the East Coast—will be licked before the end of the year.

Census bureau reports showed that employment in July climbed to 59,720,000—a new high for the year. But the number of persons looking for work increased to 4,095,000. This is the highest figure for unemployment since January, 1942.

The rise in both employment and unemployment is explained by the fact that 417,000 new persons were added to the labor force during the month.

Economists generally seized upon increase of 149,000 in industrial and manufacturing jobs as a hopeful sign that the recession may be on the way out.

SWARTZ RELEASED

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Bernard Schiowitz, 43, alias "Sixty" Swartz, arrested Friday in connection with the slaying of a Scranton racketeer, was released today for "lack of evidence."

Swartz's Lawyer Frank J. McDonnell said State police had telephoned him from Wyoming that Swartz had been freed. Swartz arrived at his Scranton home at 8 a.m. today.

BRIDAL SHOWER FOR MISS GWEN ALLEN

Miss Gwen Allen was guest of honor at a delightful pre-nuptial party held Wednesday evening with Mrs. Robert Leslie and Mrs. Howard Snyder hostesses at the latter's home, 322 Shaw street.

An entertaining evening was spent in making up a recipe book for the bride-elect, combining the favorite recipes of the guests. Diverging games also interested the guests with prizes going to Mrs. Kenneth Kauffman and Mrs. Merle Allen.

At a late hour, lunch was served at a table appointed in a blue and gold theme and decorated with a miniature bridal party and lighted candles. Miss Dorothy Rudisill aided the hostesses in serving.

PULASKI GIRL'S BETROTHAL TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morris, Pulaski, have made known the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Dorothy to Philip Kollar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kollar, R. D. 1, Pulaski. Wedding plans are indefinite.

Good Neighbors Club

Members of the Good Neighbors club met at the home of Mrs. Harry Brown, of West Washington Street extension, on Wednesday afternoon for a picnic dinner. Tables were set on the lovely lawn. Mrs. John Earl was hostess to the group.

Cards were in session in the afternoon, with prizes awarded to Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. Lyle Glitch, and galloper to Mrs. Vernon Brown.

Two members received gifts from their "secret sister" in remembrance of anniversaries. They were Mrs. John Earl, for her birthday, and Mrs. George Edwards, for an anniversary.

Guests were Mrs. Charles McGarry of Homestead, Fla., Mrs. Cora Jones, of Zanesville, Ohio, and Mrs. Richard Jones, and Mrs. Russell Shaffer of this city.

Next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Nick Raymond of Scotland Lane of Thursday evening, August 11.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast.

ENGAGEMENT TO END IN OCTOBER WEDDING

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Boon, 206 South Crawford avenue, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of Mrs. Boon's daughter, Miss Marian Lois Harris of Glendale, Pa., and New York City to George Bilek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bilek of Baltimore, Md.

The engagement will terminate in an October marriage. Miss Harris is a graduate of Scranton, Pa., Lackawanna Business college, while her fiancé is a graduate of Johns Hopkins university and the Columbia University Graduate school.

CLARA VASSILION BRIDE-ELECT FETED

Miss Clara Vassilion, bride-elect of August, was honored by a group of friends and relatives, with approximately 40 in attendance, at a lovely shower given by her maid-of-honor-elect, Miss Catherine Vassilion, on Tuesday evening. Occasion was held at Y.W.C.A., in the green room, with the co-hostesses being Mrs. John Mitchell, Mrs. Andrew Sorlo, and Mrs. Michael Economy.

The evening was spent informally. A violin solo was given by Miss Eleanor Lutton, accompanied by Miss Grace Lamb.

Prettily appointed tables, decorated in blue and yellow, were set with favors of candy bouquets in pastel shades, marking each place. Friends and relatives aided in serving delicious refreshments. A gaily decorated umbrella concealed a number of lovely gifts.

Miss Vassilion of 414 Bleakley avenue, will become the bride of Anthony Sorlo, 1931 Pennsylvania avenue, at an open church wedding, at the First Pentecostal church, August 13.

HONOR COUPLE AT FAREWELL PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, 104 South Ray street, were honored in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Balint, Brooklyn avenue, Tuesday evening, by members of the Nellie Constance Bible class of the Alliance Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street. Mrs. Kennedy presented with a lovely array of handkerchiefs. Later in the evening a delicious lunch was served by members of the Bible class.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy are leaving the city to take up residence in Falls Creek, Pa., where Mr. Kennedy will be engaged in business.

Kandelite Hostess Changed

Members of the Kandelite club will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Louis Santangelo, South Jefferson street, instead of with Mrs. Ralph Russo, as was previously planned.

MISS HELEN GENNARO WEDS CARL DeMATTEO

A late summer wedding was solemnized in St. Lawrence church, on July 30, when Miss Helen Gennaro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gennaro, Sr., of Hillsville, became the bride of Carl DeMatteo, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeMatteo, Sr., 110 Sankey street.

Rev. Fr. Joseph Fabri, officiated at the 9 o'clock nuptial mass, using the double ring ceremony. The young ladies choir provided the appropriate music during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with sweetheart neckline, edged with satin embroidered rosettes, leg o'mutton sleeves tapering at the wrists. The fitted bodice was in tulle style, and the bouffant skirt underneath was encircled with rosettes, and ended in a Cathedral train. Her dutch cap of silver baquettes and seed pearls was held in place with a veil of pure silk French illusion, and was edged daintily with rosettes of French lace.

She carried a satin bound prayer book, marked with a white orchid with streamers of hoya and stephanotis, and carried a crystal rosary, a gift from the bridegroom's mother. Her only jewelry was a gold cross, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Theresa Gennaro as her sister's maid of honor, wore a gown of pink taffeta with a round ruffled neckline, a fitted bodice, and full skirt with ruffles on either side. She wore a large lace picture hat, matching mitts and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of white baby mums and roses.

Bridesmaids, Misses Elizabeth DeMatteo, Rita Gennaro, Virginia Pezzulo and Clara Cappiello wore gowns of pink taffeta, identical as to the maid of honor, lace picture hats and mitts. They carried fan shaped bouquets of roses and yellow baby mums.

Raymond Phillips served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Pete Carvella, John DiCola, Daniel Mazocco and Dominick Polito, the latter of Poland, O.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride. In the evening, 300 guests attended a reception at the King Humbert hall.

Mr. and Mrs. DeMatteo departed on a wedding trip to New York City and other points of interest. They will reside in their newly furnished home at 112 Sankey street, upon their return.

Mrs. DeMatteo attended Bessemer High school and is employed at the Shenango Pottery Company. Mr. DeMatteo attended the New Castle High school and is employed at the Shenango Pottery. He served in the armed forces for three years with the famous 42nd Rainbow Division.

FAMILIES GUESTS OF P. S. MEMBERS

Mrs. Thomas Pawlak of Walmo welcomed P. S. club members and their families into her home on Sunday afternoon.

The afternoon was spent enjoyably in contests and playing games. The children winning high score prizes were Glenni Garzynski, Johnny Frank and Tommy and Harry Pawlak.

In the evening, delicious refreshments were served outdoors on the lawn at a table decoratively arranged with lovely garden flowers. Miss Frances Cwynar assisted the hostess in serving.

Mrs. Joseph Garzynski will be hostess to the club members at her home on Huron avenue August 16.

Stewart Reunion

Descendants of Julia Roberts and William Stewart will hold their fifth annual reunion at the home of John Stewart, Emlenton, Pa., on Sunday, August 7.

EAGLES AUXILIARY START NEW DRIVE

The Ladies Auxiliary to New Castle Aerie 455, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held their regular meeting Tuesday, August 2, Mrs. Elsie Pugh presiding.

The auxiliary has started an extensive drive for new members in conjunction with the men's membership drive, and in the fall, when the new Eagles building is formally opened, the ladies are planning an initiation with the largest class of new members ever enrolled. This will be in honor of the dedication of the magnificent new Eagles home. Two teams will compete for new members with Mrs. Adaline Navarra and Mrs. Helen Reno as captains of each team, with a prize for the woman who has the most new members and one for the next highest.

The twelve chairladies of the year, the officers and the social chairlady will have a special meeting Wednesday, August 9, at the home of Mrs. Minnie Eligass at Lakewood at 5:30 p. m. in the form of a tureen dinner. Plans for the remaining months of the year will be discussed and plans for the many charitable organizations we help sponsor will be formulated.

The auxiliary will be guests of Mrs. Adaline Navarra at her home, 815 East Lutton street, Tuesday, August 9, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss "Dolly" DiLullo who will become the bride of Fred Navarra Monday, August 15.

Several activities were planned for the annual cornroast to be held Tuesday, August 30, at Lakewood and Mrs. Cecelia Jackson, chairlady for August, plans to have entertainment for all who attend.

Mrs. Jackson had as her aides for the social period following the meeting, Mrs. Dorothy Heckart, Mrs. Kathryn Williams, Mrs. Martha Hook on the lunch committee and Mrs. Orpha McConnell and Mrs. Sara McCune were in charge of the entertainment committee.

The doornight went to the honorary mother of the year, Mrs. Margaret Krueger.

The next regular meeting will be Tuesday, August 16, with Mrs. Elsie Pugh in charge.

MORE FREEDOM FOR JAPAN

General MacArthur has done his job so well in Japan that it is safe to assume that there are sound reasons behind his sudden order virtually wiping out the United States Military Government in that nation. But since no explanation accompanied the order one can only speculate why the general has decided to ease so spectacularly at this time the strict supervision of almost every phase of Japanese life.

The best guess is that General MacArthur has decided that the time has come to give the Japanese greater freedom in running their own affairs. This must be done gradually if the occupation is ever to be ended; it will be much better for the Japanese and for Americans if the transition from complete controls to freedom is made over a period of years. But what has prompted the general to believe that the hour has come to move more rapidly in this direction?

One possible explanation of course is that the Japanese have been gradually growing more restive under strict military controls. The sweep of the Red armies over nearby China and the return to Japan of war prisoners deeply indoctrinated by communism may tempt some Japanese to feel that their nation had better throw in its lot with the new power rising over Asia. MacArthur's move may be calculated to offset these influences.

At any rate, there are still plenty of controls over Japan. The American army of occupation remains. The only real change is that supervision has been shifted from military to civilian hands. That is sound policy and it should ease tensions which, sooner or later, would create real difficulties for American occupation forces.

FUTILE TAXES

There are at least a dozen large industries which hope fervently that Vice President Barkley was a good prophet when he spoke before the National Association of Credit Jewelers. In that address Mr. Barkley ventured the prediction that excise taxes on so-called luxuries would be either repealed or greatly reduced in the near future. He even declared that President Truman was in favor of legislation to this effect.

What, then, is Congress waiting for? The Republican minority is ready to get rid of these taxes and through Joseph W. Martin, party leader in the House, has repeatedly said so. If a Democratic president and vice president are of the same mind, the majority ought to have no difficulty in getting action.

Three good reasons exist for abolishing excise taxes. In the first place these taxes were a wartime device and were never intended to carry over into an era of peace. The theory, moreover, that they are a tax on luxuries simply does not hold water. Most of the items thus burdened—among them luggage, gas and electric appliances, transportation, and even cosmetics and fur coats—have come, and rightly, to be regarded as necessities.

But the compelling argument for doing something is to be found in the employment figures. According to the Jewelry Research Foundation, Inc., idleness in the excise-taxed industries is running four to eight times as great as in industry generally. It could very well be the fact, therefore, that the excise taxes collected are less than the income and corporation taxes which the government would receive under normal business activity.

UNIFICATION AT LAST?

When the bill to tighten the unification of the armed services put in an appearance on the floor of the Senate several days ago, many senators must have had that I've-been-through-this-before feeling. True enough, they had. Nevertheless, they buckled down and gave it unanimous approval for the second time in three weeks.

This time it looks as though the House will not stall the bill because some members of the House Armed Services Committee are angry at Defense Secretary Johnson. Previously, the Tydings bill, which came over from the Senate, ran afoul of a strong anti-Johnson sentiment. The House committee thought the defense secretary was trying to manipulate the testimony which will be heard from the three branches of service in the coming B-36 inquiry. But that's all cleared up now.

Senator Tydings, Senate Armed Services Committee head, and Rep. Carl Vinson, his opposite number on the House side, have had their heads together, and most objections raised by the House against the bill have been watered down or eliminated outright.

Within a short time, full unification of the three branches of the services, substantial savings in military expenditures, and increased administrative efficiency, should become as close to reality as legislation can make it. It has been so long in the process that final passage of the bill, when it does come, will be anti-climactic.

Some American business men are complaining because European producers, whose factories were rebuilt by our taxpayers' money are now shipping goods to the United States and under-selling us. Well, what would you expect 'em to do?

A few months ago President Truman accused selfish business interests of seeking to bring about inflation and now he intimates that the same interests are trying to bring on deflation. As big an about face as Mr. Truman executed on the tax question.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The U. S. State Department is not alone in finding the Chinese jigsaw puzzle more mysterious than ever today. The seeming paradoxes in the Orient mount steadily.

Anglo-American governments are against communism—but shy away from aiding Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek. Europe comes first, and especially after the billions of dollars of aid that failed to keep the Nationalists atop victory.

The British frigate amethyst flees from Communist guns in the dark of the moon on the Yangtze River.

The Communist radio accused the British of killing hundreds of innocent Chinese by using a Chinese ship as a shield. The Communists vow vengeance.

British seamen are elated at their escape after the Amethyst was caught in the April Communist offensive across the Yangtze into Southern China. They are given a hero's welcome and they add a flourish with a message to the London admiralty ending in "God Save The King."

That was on Saturday.

On Tuesday the British merchantman Edith Moller calmly enters Communist-held Shanghai to "do business as usual." It has cracked the Nationalist anti-Communist blockade—the first ship to take this step since the Nationalists ordered "a port closure" June 20 to Shanghai and other Communist-held harbors.

The Amethyst sailors "save face" by escaping from their humiliating position up the Yangtze from Shanghai. The Edith Moller crewmen apparently elicit admiration.

Such Clues Awaited

Certainly they have awaited such clues in the past despite a fostered belief among some Americans that the Chinese Communists are not really Communists, just vague "agrarians."

Ever since the fall of Shanghai there has not been a single Communist announcement or broadcast that has played the business of the western businessmen in Asia's largest city.

American investments in Shanghai are estimated at more than $150 million; those of the British amount to more than a billion dollars. Rival businessmen have been reported eying each other suspiciously, each fearing the other will get the jump on trading with the Communists. Many have fallen for the idea that, after all, the Communists have to trade with the west to survive; that Moscow can't fill orders.

While they have been watching each other and remembering some slight received from retreating Nationalists, the Communist authorities in Shanghai stand by and watch a "squeeze play" being put on the Anglo-Americans.

This takes the form of Chinese workers locking in American consular officers and other westerners in an effort to blackmail them for money.

Some of the workers' claims appear just what they definitely do not. But the Communist government does not lift a helping hand.

The businessmen have been going through a period of disillusionment. Costs are mounting; they have no real protection from a Communist regime that is not recognized by Washington and London; the Communist "red tape" gets longer.

Some businessmen appear about ready to toss in the sponge, but the arrival of the Edith Moller certainly will stay their hands. Even though the little 800-ton ship arrived while other British seamen were limping to Hong Kong and safety aboard the shell-shocked Amethyst.

Too often when we leave our place of work we bring this world along with us in our hearts or heads. But our family, especially our children, want all of us when we come home, not just our physical presence.

Care Of Infant

He's a wonderful father who, on arriving home can help take physical care of the infant and treat this tender little creature as the precious person he is. Wonderful he who takes over the care of the tot from two to five, enjoying what this youngster has to show him and tell him about, answering his questions, explaining things to him, making things with him, even walking and sometimes romping with him.

This father will surely read much and often to the child from two to six and not tire at reading over and over again the tot's old favorites. Should this father let his mind wander a bit and miscellane a few words the eager listener will faithfully correct him.

Asking Questions

Now and then the child may want to ask a question or make a comment as the father reads and the father will then listen and answer sympathetically. But he rarely will explain as he reads unless the child asks him to do so. Then it is grand if the tot volunteers to make up a yarn of his own or induces the father to spin one. This father always appreciates this little person's creation with words out of his head, just as he appreciates this tot's creations with crayons, blocks or tools. This wonderful father also sets the stage so his young child will have lots of fun with other children his age and will find many ways for fun for his children from six to twelve or so at competitive games with other children outdoors and at making things with tools indoors. He will go tramping through the woods and fields with his children old enough, go fishing with them, plan picnics for the whole family, sometimes taking other children along.

This father will be interested in Cubbing, Scouting and the like, inspiring his children to belong to such organizations, even be a leader of such himself. He will attend games, go to church or Sunday school or both with the children, the whole family going together. To the teen age son or daughter he will be a boon companion and the fireside or dinner table and his children always will be proud of him when their playmates or pals drop in. My bulletin, "Fathers Are Parents, Too" may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, N. Y.

State Police Say:

Some motorists appear to be of the opinion that when they come to a stop at a stop-sign before entering a through highway, their duty is completed.

The law requires that when the operator of a motor vehicle comes to a stop-sign he shall remain at the stop-sign until the highway is clear and free of oncoming traffic from either direction. In other words, he must yield the right of way to all traffic on the highway.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

NO LONGER BUT A SILHOUETTE

Great souls have been aided To work and to write, By the tiniest gleam Of a flickering light. Through patience and study—And real earnest prayer. No silhouetted figures. But light is everywhere. Transformers are needed Its power to break down. Now, darkness is feared—Not in country or town. The animal cowers Where he has shifted Till God's veil of black At dawn is lifted. The night of its terrors With light men wanted to rob The spark that spells tolerance Is sent from God.

"I love you, Mummy" The baby cooed What a wonderful force At once the stoic mother moved. No longer in the tracks

For death she waited But fired with zeal— Success at last she celebrated. Man's greatest need Is a light within To guide his heart and mind. Sometimes a shadow intervenes But time at last proves kind. Spiritual darkness Is much to be dreaded Like our bodies Souls crave to be fed. Since Christ is the Church's foundation And God is our shining light The faith that you nurture within you Will soon make the darkness bright.

America pray That the button we press, Throws far the light of Righteousness. For as you point your fingers Three point back to you. Are you perfect as the Master Or some faults have you a few?

No Unemployment Scare Here!

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Suggests Congress Recess Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The Senator from the west remarked plaintively that he had talked to his wife on the long-distance phone and she reported that they had had a fire in the fireplace every night for the past week. Sometimes, she told her suffering husband, it was so cool in the late afternoon they had to light a fire before supper.

You can begin to see the symptoms developing. The women and children have gone to be cool by a lake or mountain. The senator is lonely. He feels put upon and, above all, he is not.

He begins to wonder why Congress should still be in session in the Dog Days. Nothing but a lot of talk anyway, and he's pretty tired of it.

It is a little like the tremor that runs through a herd of cattle just before the stampede. They want out. One of the sure signs is that in the speculation over adjournment the date is now being moved forward. September 1 is most frequently given now, whereas two or three weeks ago no one hoped to get away until after Labor Day.

Under the La Follette-Monroe Reorganization Act a timetable was worked out. All the deadlines have been ignored, including the date for adjournment which was put at July 31.

Will Be Jammed Through

In the last-minute rush vital legislation will be scanted or passed over. Appropriation bills jammed through are likely to contain jokers that may seriously impair efficiency or even just normal government operation.

For the lobbyists and special-interest boys it is a kind of witches' carnival. Under cover of the confusion anything can happen and it usually does. In short, it's a hell of a way to run a railroad!

Geography, politics and climate are all intermingled as the session winds on into August, with the ordinary citizen either about to go on a vacation or just back with a new tan. One reason for the restlessness at this stage is that the congressman begins to get an uneasy feeling about what is happening back home.

He has been in Washington for seven months. While the scheduled airlines with their big new planes make home a lot closer, still it is an expensive trip and it does take time.

What Are People Thinking?

The congressman has had word that his opponent-to-be in the election next year is already out making speeches and cultivating friends. The mail is mostly full of complaints. What are people really thinking? How is he regarded? The congressman wants to go home and find out.

Freshmen members are especially plagued with this feeling of doubt and uncertainty. Washington, which happens to be on the eastern seaboard and a long way from most places, generates its own isolationism.

I listened to Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, one of the freshmen who has made himself heard at this session, talk informally about a remedy. What he suggested was that Congress, during a session of ordinary length, should take at least three or four week-long recesses.

During those recesses members of Congress could go back home with their fare each way paid by congressional appropriation. They would get out of the artificial atmosphere of Washington, they would talk with the folks back home and they would return with a clearer idea of what was happening in the country and what was happening to them. Or maybe they would just go fishing and do a little earnest thinking on their own.

Idea Worth Considering

This idea is certainly worth considering in any future plans of reorganization. It would remove one of the few valid reasons for that nervous feeling that leads up to the stampede to get away. The conscientious congressman would not have to be constantly looking back over his shoulder for possible danger signals at home.

The arms aid program has the most far-reaching implications for this country and for the rest of the world. Introduced after the fever to get away has already set in, it can be sidetracked in a last-minute fog of controversy.

Congress will meet in January in the atmosphere of an election year. Then the pressure to get away, to postpone, to delay will be even greater.

The World and the Mud Puddles

Countless millions of words have been said about the mud puddles of the world. The mud puddles of the world are as old as the Tower of Babel and as commonplace as the breakfast dishes, but embodied in this wordy tilt is a genuine new item, as real as the case of a fire hydrant wetting a dog. The reigning dower of the clan that was always wrong has hit the jackpot and come up with the correct answer.

The Cardinal must have been deeply disturbed by the issue at hand. For his language was much more violent than ordinarily would be expected from a personage of his dignified and exalted station. Granted that he comes close to being infallible in spiritual matters, dispassionate study and calm, impartial analysis forces us to the conclusion that in this temporal affair he has erred.

Parochial schools are supported by the Church for a specific purpose—to instill into the minds of the pupils the precepts and doctrines of Catholicism while they study the ordinary scholastic subjects. This is perfectly proper, but it automatically bars such institutions from the status of public schools and disqualifies them from the use of funds derived from taxation. Our public school system is maintained from taxes paid by citizens and alien freeholders of every faith, as well as by those of no faith at all, and it would be highly improper to include religious teaching of any nature in the curriculum. Complete freedom of action and absolute separation of Church and State constitute the most jealously guarded principal in our national credo.

Admittedly it is a hardship on Catholic families to be compelled to pay educational taxes while at the same time they are assessed

Clothes For Dakar, Puzzle

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

DAKAR, FRENCH WEST AFRICA, Aug. 4.—I might have known it.

After all I am in Dakar with all the wrong things to wear. Not one of the haberdashery consultants whose advice I sought in the United States told me to bring a plain old bed sheet to use for trousers. And that is what the men-about-town in Dakar favor for morning, afternoon, and evening wear. Had I been tipped off on this before I left home, I could have gone through the laundry hamper and arrived here ready to cut a dashing figure.

Also, I should have brought a—well, I don't know the name for it, but it is a shoe-length cotton kimono, which is worn over the bed sheet pants. The kimono is worn open in order, I suppose, to show the many, many creases in the draped pants.

Absolutely Of No Use

The one thing I brought along that is of absolutely no use is a white pith helmet. Pith helmets are worn strictly by the natives, all of whom are descendants of the jungle tribes. There must have been a time when they couldn't have told the difference between a pith helmet and a tom-tom drum, but they wouldn't be caught without one now.

Jean isn't very fashionably dressed here, either, because she sticks to the old-fashioned custom of wearing only one dress at a time. The native women here wear all their dresses, one on top of the other, at all times. This is to show that their husbands or fathers are prosperous and can afford to buy them more than one dress. The same goes for their necklaces and bracelets. If a Dakar-native woman's house burned down while she was out she wouldn't lose any personal belongings, because she would have them all on.

An Exotic City

If you are looking for an exotic city to visit, you might be wise to come to Dakar. It is a desert city, right smack on the ocean. Yet go inland 200 miles or so and you bump into the bush country of darkest Africa. Walk along the streets and you hear every known language, and the dialects of scores of tribes.

The rhythm of the city of Dakar is in slow-motion time. No one hurries at any time, for any reason. It is said that there hasn't been an ulcer or a nervous breakdown in Dakar in all its long history. One of the most soothing sights I have ever seen is to watch the natives here "work."

I sat on the verandah of a European club and watched a dozen natives at "work" on a gravel pile, which had to be moved. For a good hour they walked around it, surveyed it, and jabbered at it. Finally, two of them picked up shovels, moved one shovel of gravel each, and then threw down their shovels and walked away. The remaining ten apparently considered this a good idea, so they walked away, too, and stretched out in the shade. My guess is that the gravel will get moved sometime in 1951—late 1951, that is.

They stretched out under a tree that fascinates me. It grows here and in Kenya only. It is a desert tree, and for nine months of the year it is completely bare of leaves. Then, one month before the rains start, the tree grows luxuriant green leaves. Dakar folks can tell to a day when the rains will come by the budding of this tree.

Enough for today. Dakar's got me lazy, too.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

A violent controversy is raging in our parts over the question whether wheels of chance at church fairs, firemen's carnivals and other similar events are sinful and against the public good.

You know these wheels, of course.

You put down your dime, spin the wheel and win a pound of coffee or a doll or what-have-you. Or perhaps you just spin the wheel and don't win anything.

But you get a good laugh and, if you have any sporting blood in you, you keep on putting down dimes and spinning the wheel until your waist is discreetly pulled your sleeve and says, "That's enough, dear."

So you go on to the next "attraction" and try again.

Who is damaged? What's wrong about it? What has religion or the public good got to do with it?

Being a voter I was asked my opinion about these games. I know the questioners wanted me to condemn them. I could tell by the way they asked the questions.

My answer was: "You make me sick. You're nothing but a bunch of hypocrites."

Naturally they left in a huff, and I didn't have a chance to explain.

But even if they had stayed on I couldn't have explained. They wouldn't have let me.

You can't convince hypocrites that they are wrong.

There is no sense arguing with intolerance.

Hypocrites and intolerant people are so imbued with their own righteousness that they consider you beneath them if you disagree. What you say doesn't count.

To them there is only one side to a question—theirs.

I'll tell you why I think these wheels of chance are all right, because you may have them in your community.

Wrong is something that hurts others.

I am against gambling if the money you spend on gambling deprives your family of something to which it is entitled, or if gambling becomes a habit that takes your thoughts off your work and eventually leads to misery and failure.

I am against drinking for the same reason.

But it is ridiculous to say that putting a few little dimes on a wheel-of-chance at a church fair is more sinful than a ride on the merry-go-round or any other innocent pastime.

Frankly, I hate preachers of sin and perdition make me sick.

There is little enough joy in this world as it is. To kill laughter and fun and call it sin is just as sinful as sin itself.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

If you admire perseverance, consider the case, reported in Capper's Weekly, of a monkey named Charlie in the Baltimore Zoo.

Charlie liked to beat up all the other monkeys. To cure him of his belligerent ways, his keeper put him in a cage with a tough porcupine named Wilton. A fearful of Wilton's quills, figured the keeper, would quench Charlie's love of battle.

Charlie, however, attacked Wilton "again and again and again." After each assault, he would retire to a corner and patiently extract quills one by one. Then came the inevitable moment when Wilton ran out of quills. The keeper, Charlie matches on!

Not Concerned
On Jet ReportsDefense Planners Not Too Concerned Over Russian Plane ReportsOTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Top defense planners are not too concerned about recent headline reports of Russian air might. Air force leaders, supplied with intelligence reports on "jets so fast they could hardly be seen" at the recent Moscow air show say: "May be, but how many can they have?"

Their reasoning is that, with the aid of captured German scientists, the Soviets could and doubtless have produced a few outstanding aircraft types. However, United States leaders do not think the Russians have the "know how" to produce fast new planes in impressive numbers.

They point out that the United States has at least a dozen new jets coming along which will far out-perform the types familiar to civilians now.

It is known that United States aeronautic research agencies are working on a series of supersonic planes which will culminate with one capable of as much as 1,900 miles per hour.

POLISH DIPLOMAT—COMMUNIST OR CATHOLIC?

Diplomatic circles in Washington are watching closely Polish Ambassador Joseph Winiewicz, a devout Catholic, for some inkling of his views in the Communist-Vatican war.

The diplomatic corps wants to see whether Winiewicz will stick by his church or go along with the Communist-dominated Polish government. The question came to the front when Pope Pius XII decreed excommunication for all members of the Communist party.

Whether this applies to the Polish envoy depends on whether he is a Communist. He has never admitted party membership, although he represents a government under the Kremlin's thumb. Catholic authorities in Washington say that the church will take no action against anyone unless he is an admitted or proved Communist. However, they point out, it is a matter for the individual Catholic's conscience.

Should he admit party membership, Winiewicz undoubtedly would suffer excommunication. Chances are he will keep quiet and keep on going to church every Sunday.

PACT DELAY HURT ARMS BILL

Senate delay of Atlantic Pact ratification appears to have jeopardized enactment of an arms implementation bill this session. There were even some indications that opponents of arms for Europe delayed the pact voting with this in mind.

Ratification first was expected in the week of July 10, with arms hearings to start immediately afterward in the House foreign affairs committee.

However, the Senate debate dragged on until the July 21 deadline finally was set.

So the House hearings had to be postponed, and doubt has arisen that action on the arms bill now can be completed at this session. Congress tentatively is scheduled to adjourn about Labor Day.

PREDICTION GALLUPED

The freely-voiced prediction that senators would do less talking in the absence of spectators has not stood up.

Debate on the North Atlantic Pact brought forth just as long—if not longer—speeches, even though the Senate is crowded into the old Supreme Court room in the capitol, with no galleries to hold appreciative spectators.

Senator William Langer (R), North Dakota, opposed the pact with a 79-page speech, and William E. Jenner (R), Indiana, spoke against the treaty for three and one-half hours.

There were, however, two notable exceptions. Senator Chan Gurney (R), South Dakota, ranking minority member of the armed services committee, didn't even read his brief. He inserted it in the Congressional Record and gave copies to newsmen. Senator William F. Knowland (R), California, spoke for the pact for 10 minutes and then sat down.

All the sound and the fury had little effect. Most of the senators knew how they were going to vote before the debate started, and the result was just about what was expected weeks ago.

Have A Drinking
Fountain To Sell
For $454,319?

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Connecticut's Fine Arts commission is looking around today for a drinking fountain to cost not more than $454,319.10.

The commission was ordered by Superior Court Judge Edward Daly to erect the fountain immediately, in accordance with the terms of the 43-year-old will of Alfred E. Burr, former publisher of the "Hartford Times."

Burr left $80,000 in 1906 for a memorial drinking fountain "for both humans and animals," and the fund swelled since that time.

School Tax Payment
Due At Face Value

A majority of New Castle citizens took advantage of the two per cent discount rate on city school tax and paid their annual levy before the August 1 deadline, City Treasurer Bernard N. Hanlon revealed today.

Out of the original duplicate of $1,014,680.60 more than 86 per cent or $873,851.10 was paid as of August 1.

The balance will be collected at its face value for the months of August and September and then classified as delinquent October 1. A five per cent penalty is added to delinquent taxes.

Driving Permit
Issued To Cat

Owner Admits He Secures Operator's Permit Under Assumed Name: That Of Pet Cat

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Algeron Elias van der Tweezer was a cat.

He's dead, but for a year he's had a license to drive an automobile in Massachusetts.

Furthermore, he got the permit under an assumed name—A. E. Van.

The strange tale of the "cat motorist" came to light today when his master, Benjamin Franklin Wilson, 25, attendant nurse at Boston State hospital, was arrested on charges of illegal driving. The questions at a police lineup were:

Q.—Do you have an operator's license? A.—Yes sir, and no sir—I have one under an assumed name.

Q.—No double talk—elucidate! A.—I've a license under the name of A. E. Van.

Q.—Who is A. E. Van? A.—My pet cat.

Q.—Was that his full name? A.—His real name was Elgeron Elias van der Tweezer. I couldn't spell it when I applied for the license. I used only the parts of the name I could spell.

Wilson was taken before Judge Samuel J. Eisenstadt in Roxbury district court. He was charged with operating an automobile without authority and with driving an automobile so as to endanger.

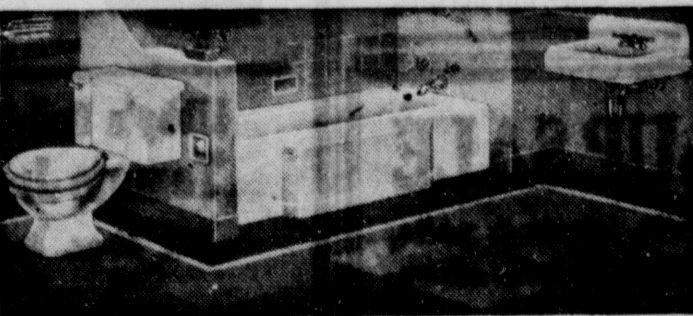

Wilson was convicted and sentenced to serve six months in the house of correction.

Tomorrow, in South Boston district court Wilson will appear to explain to the satisfaction of Registry of Motor Vehicle officials how come a cat—dead a year—had a license to drive an automobile.

Farm Vegetation
But Hinders Grains

HARRISBURG, Aug. 4.—(INS)—The fifth successive week of warm weather generally favored rapid growth of vegetation on farms, but continued to hinder harvesting of hays and grains, the State Agriculture department said today.

Reporting on the week ending yesterday the department said although averaging normal for the state, rainfall was below normal in southeastern and northwestern sections. Temperatures averaged 78 degrees, six above normal.

The department's weekly survey showed apples sizing well with promise of high quality. Peaches were above average in quality.

Corn continued rapid growth with mid-season sweet corn ready for market. Much of southeastern corn was in ear, the department said, but stands were poor in a few northern localities due to lack of rain.

Refreshing and combining of wheat continued slowly during the week. Much wheat in northern and central counties had sprouted in the shock and was slow to dry.

Dry soils followed by excessive rains at planting time cut buckwheat acreage below original estimates. Condition of the crop ranges from poor to excellent.

Death Rate Lower For First Half Of 1949 Reports Show

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 4.—General health conditions in the United States, as reflected by mortality, were better during the first half of 1949 than ever before in our history, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company. Among the company's millions of industrial policyholders the death rate for the six-month period was 6.7 per 1,000 policyholder, which is 3.3 per cent below the rate for the same period in 1948.

New low death rates for the period were recorded in the insurance experience for nine diseases: whooping cough, diphtheria, influenza, pneumonia, tuberculosis, syphilis, appendicitis, diarrhea and enteritis, and the diseases of child birth.

"A remarkably low incidence of influenza and pneumonia has been an important factor in the record," the statisticians point out. "Both diseases had death rates about one sixth lower than last year's all-time low for the period. The mortality from tuberculosis also is continuing to fall, with the decline for the first half of 1949 amounting to about 10 per cent."

The chronic degenerative diseases also made a comparatively favorable record, with the cardiovascular-renal rate down slightly, the diabetes rate higher than in 1948 and 1947 but below the average from 1942 through 1946, and the cancer rate alone continuing to rise. Part of the increase in the cancer rate, the statisticians note, is due to the aging of the policyholder group.

Homicides and accidents registered lower mortality this year than last, with a 19 per cent decline for occupational accidents and small declines for home and motor vehicle accidents. The suicide rate rose slightly.

Although the improvement in mortality was evident in nearly every age group, it was greatest among boys at ages five to nine, and among girls at ages five to 14, the statisticians report.

Joan Fontaine And Husband Are Separating

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Film star Joan Fontaine leaves Hollywood by plane today for New York and Rome on a trip which she says will mark the beginning of the end of her 3-year-old marriage to Producer William Dozier.

The academy award-winning actress announced tearfully she and Dozier "haven't been getting along for a year" and "don't feel like pretending any longer."

She said her departure will start what she termed an "amicable" separation, to be followed by a divorce when she returns from Europe some two months hence.

Joan said their 9-month-old daughter, Deborah Leslie, will remain at home with her father while she is away and that Dozier "will move out when I return."

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

SUGGESTING FEARS

Now and again with the best intentions in the world, grown-ups suggest fears to children that otherwise would never have been raised. Such comments, as, "Don't be afraid, he won't bite you," when a child encounters a dog, may give the youngster the idea that he might be bitten which otherwise wouldn't have occurred to him. Fear may be aroused, too, by saying "Don't worry, I'll catch you if you fall" to a child who is busily climbing.

Fear is a very crippling emotion. Everything should be done to avoid its development in the young child. Because of our eagerness to protect him against possible dangers, we can make him so afraid of germs that he becomes a fussy, anxious child. Or we may make him extremely cautious in his contacts with strangers because we want to protect him against the one-in-a-thousand, person who might harm him.

The job of raising sturdy, emotionally stable youngsters is an important one. Caution in reasonable degree is a fine thing, but fear is almost always more harmful than helpful. It pays to be sure we aren't building up fears when we think we are merely being sensible about possible dangers.

Professor Held For Beating Nurse

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 4.—(INS)—A married college professor was held today by Columbia police who said he brutally pistol-whipped a comely nurse whom he "loved but planned to kill" after hiding under her bed and overhearing her telephone conversation with another man.

Police said the professor became enraged because he thought the nurse was calling a sweetheart. Actually, authorities said, she telephoned a real estate agent.

Victim of the attack was 32-year-old Ann Pierce. She was reported in critical condition.

Police named the woman's assailant as associate Prof. Russell B. Maxey. They claimed he pistol-whipped Miss Pierce in a bloody fight that raged through her five-room home yesterday.

Deputy sheriff J. D. Dunnaway quoted Maxey as saying he also wanted to kill the comely nurse's admirers.

Miss Pierce was treated at the hospital for more than 100 cuts on her head. Hospital spokesmen said her teeth were knocked out in her battle with the 45-year-old professor.

The nurse was rescued when neighbors heard her screams for help and called police.

West Chicago Barbers Prepare For Business Boom

CHICAGO, Aug. 4 — (INS) — Suburban West Chicago barbers turned up their pruning shears to-day and dreamed about Aug. 14. That's the day the town's men will shave for the first time since May 15 when a beard-growing contest sprouted in conjunction with the West Chicago centennial. Activities got underway last night when 16-year-old Iris Robinson was crowned Queen of the Bearded City.

Only catch about Aug. 14—it's a Sunday and barber shops will be closed.

PROCEDURE WHEN BRIDE'S PARENTS ARE DIVORCED

"What is the wedding procedure when the bride's parents are divorced? That is, who issues invitations, announcements, gives the bride away and takes care of the other innumerable details incidental to a formal church wedding?"

Answer: In a case of this sort, especially when either or both parents have remarried, there is always a little embarrassment when the bride has divided affection—wants both of her parents at her wedding and wants to avoid hurting either one.

Actually, the bitterness or lack of it between her mother and father has great bearing on her plans. Here are a few hints:

If the bride is living with her father who has remarried, the invitations to the wedding and reception should be in her father's and stepmother's name as she will be the hostess of the day. Her mother may, however, be invited to the ceremony, but only in the most exceptional case, to the reception.

If she lives with her mother who has remarried, the invitations should be in her mother's and stepfather's name as he will be the host. Even in this case she may invite her father to give her away but as stated above only "in the most exceptional case" should he be invited to the reception.

It is entirely up to the bride to choose whom she pleases to give her away—her father, her stepfather, brother or uncle.

Question: Should cream or only sugar be served when demi-tasse is served after dinner?

Answer: Cream should be served for those who desire it. Most people, however, prefer demi-tasse black.

Present your problems to Miss Market who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.) (Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Lucius Beebe, once the grand boulevardier of New York, is in town these days waving aloft his final citizenship papers from the sovereign state of Nevada.

To add insult to injury, Mr. Beebe, spiritual descendant of Louis IV, the sun king, and the country's leading (by ten laps at the turn) Sybarite, is speaking of his former home town in the harsh terms usually employed by visiting British authors.

"I wouldn't live here if you gave me the place," declared Mr. Beebe amid luxuries of the Colony restaurant, as he twirled a handsome gold toothpick obtained in Virginia City, Nev., of which he is now a legal resident.

"Faw!" snorted Mr. Beebe, the only man alive who is able to employ this word with sense and feeling. "And again faw! New York in these latter days is merely an outpost of Europe."

"I am convinced that the American colony in New York—or what remains of it—is smaller than the American colony in Paris at the outbreak of World War II." Mr. Beebe, who has always been larger than life and twice as handsome, has become a Neveadan by choice. For him, New York is now a wilderness of "poodle dogs all named Fifi, whose leash is attached to a refugee from Paris or Buenos Aires who is adorned with a black Homburg at one end and black spats at the other."

Couldn't Be More Frightful

"The Black Hole of Calcutta couldn't be more frightful," Mr. Beebe conceded gloomily. "The American colony in this town lives in a constant state of siege in Jack and Charlie's 21 club, here at the colony or at the Stork club, existing miserably on caviar and splits of perrier Jouet and fighting to keep the blood lines clean."

As he paused for breath, I asked Mr. Beebe, an old acquaintance whom I miss more than somewhat, since it was his pleasant custom to play me with costly vittles from time to time in his New York past, what had brought him east to our splendid sink hole.

"Business, only business," boomed Mr. Beebe, a man never known to lower his voice to anyone.

The business is a new book, "U. S. West, the Saga of Wells Fargo," by himself and Chuck Clegg, an author-photographer team specializing in the history of transportation in general and railroads in particular.

Relative Cheapie

The tome, to be published by Dutton in September, is a relative "cheapie" for this duo, since it will retail for a mere $7.50. Their last book, "Mixed Train Daily, a Book of Short Line Railroads," became a best seller despite the fact it retailed for $12.50 and was designed for specialists and aficionados who are nutty as Christmas cakes about old railroads.

Now residents of Nevada, the Messrs. Beebe and Clegg make their home in the railroad yards of Carson City, capital of Nevada, in "The Gold Coast." This is the last privately maintained railroad car in operating condition in the U. S. A.

The rugged simplicities of life aboard the car, decorated in the voluptuous red plush, gilt and crystal of the early U. S. Grant period, include a butler who once ministered to the late J. P. Morgan on his yacht Corsair.

Always Irking Mr. Beebe

New Yorkers are always irking Mr. Beebe by asking "Yes, but what do you find to do in Nevada?"

"My days are full," said Mr. B. testily. "I swim, I picnic, I play a little roulette, I get a bit potted and I wire east for money. By that time, it's always tomorrow. Perfect time and economic cycle."

The cycle is broken annually when Mr. Beebe, complete with his mink lined overcoat, goes on his winter lecture tour. He loves the ladies' luncheon clubs, which pay such nice lecture fees, but this gourmet can't abide their food. He now carries his own India rubber chicken with him and doubles his fee if the ladies insist he eat with them.

The last of the boulevardiers had one final word of scorn for New York. Waving his Nevada citizenship papers, he cried:

"The whole history of the last 20 years here is the descent from pheasant under glass to pasant without class."

Howard Altman gave up only one hit Monday night as V.F.W. Post 315 defeated the South Side, 2 to 0, in an American Legion Junior league game.

Snag Russell pitched for the South Side and held the Vets to three hits, among them a double by Dick Altman that drove in both runs. H. Altman struck out nine and Russell four.

Wednesday night the V.F.W. won a forfeit game from the West Side when the West Side team failed to show up at a scheduled game.

Next Monday the V.F.W. team meets the Walmo Market in the final league game of the season.

Declares Communism Is Not Party But Conspiracy

By TALBOT HOOD
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Lord Vansittart, British foreign affairs expert, said today that "communism is not a party but a conspiracy," and hence strong anti-communist measures in no way impair democratic liberties.

The distinguished diplomat and foreign affairs writer told International News Service exclusively: "I sometimes wonder why Americans charge themselves with hysteria, witch-hunting and all the communist vocabulary for doing badly what needs doing better."

"Another sad Anglo-Saxon habit is perpetually to rush into sackcloth, which is the worst possible costume for dealing with anarchists, black, brown or red."

Lord Vansittart, who said in Commons recently that there are now 100 communist agents in Britain for every one Nazi agent in pre-war days, explained his statement thus:

Use Native Product
"The Germans—deeming themselves 'Herrenvolk'—rarely used native agents. Their tools were mostly Germans. The communists everywhere use the native product—full-blown communists or fellow-travelers. So of course, there is much more of it, and it gets into the trade unions and factories on a scale never imagined by the Nazis."

"The menace is accordingly far greater and harder to cope with."

Indicating that recent labor disorders on the London docks, in Australia, in Hawaii and in the United States west coast were parts of a world-wide communist plan, Lord Vansittart stated:

"The recent London dock strike was of course part of 'combined operations'."

"The various steps have been very well thought out and timed. The process is termed 'leapfrog' among the brethren. There is more of it to come."

The former permanent under-secretary for foreign affairs called for "vigilance in the factories and the ports" as a means of preventing communist infiltration. He also cited "restriction of communist influence in education and radio" as a method of curtailing communism.

Folks Of Fame

Born Sept. 18, 1905, in Stockholm, Sweden, Greta Garbo went to work in a barber shop when she was 14, lathering customers' chins. Her next job was as a model in a millinery store. Her first movie was made in her native land, but after winning a scholarship in Stockholm's Royal Dramatic school she made The Attraction of Gosta Berling—so fine a picture that her director was called to Hollywood, and came on condition she come with him. Some of the pictures in which she starred were Anna Christie, Susan Lennox, Mata Hari, Grand Hotel, Queen Christina, Anna Karenina, Camille, Conquest and Ninotchka. It is now rumored she will shortly appear once more in pictures.

Ex-King Alfonso XIII of Spain was born a king, but died in Rome, Italy, in exile, having fled his homeland. He was born in Madrid, Spain, May 17, 1886. He was married in 1906 to a granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England. He was more hated and more loved by his people than any other modern king. He was an ardent sportsman, and the most autocratic and also the most democratic of monarchs. His life was threatened many times, but he escaped. When his country voted to become a republic, in 1931, he refused to abdicate and was outlawed.

Emery Candidate For City Controller

Announces Candidacy For City Office At Republican Primary In September

GOMER W. EMERY

Gomer W. Emery, of the Fourth Ward, today announced as a candidate for the office of city controller, at the September Primary.

Mr. Emery is married, is the father of two sons, and has resided in his present residence at 1038 Adams street for the past 23 years. Mr. Emery is a veteran of both World War I and World War 2, with a total service of six years. In the recent war he participated in the invasions of Normandy and Southern France in the European Theater of War, and in the invasions of Iwo Jima and Okinawa in the Pacific. He has long been active in service men's affairs and fraternal, as well as veterans' organizations.

He makes the following statement:

"The law provides that 'the city controller shall be a competent accountant.' After graduation from high school I attended college for three years, majoring in accounting. During my service with the U. S. Navy during World War 2, I received special training in finance work and when not engaged in combat I was charged with disbursements and record keeping for the battleship to which I was assigned."

After leaving naval service I was employed by the Veterans Administration for two years at the peak of that administration's activity, and my work dealt with the closing of contracts, and the examination of claims and accounts.

I respectfully submit that this education, training and experience qualifies me to meet the legal requirements of the office.

The law also provides that 'the city controller shall examine, audit and settle all accounts whatsoever in which the city is concerned.' Another provision of the law is that the city controller 'in case he discovers any default, irregularity, delinquency, or mismanagement, shall make report to council.'

I submit, again, that I am qualified to carry out these duties.

I also wish to point out that the payroll and other taxes are now taking an immense amount of money from our people, and that the disbursements occasioned by construction of a new city hall and other extravagances are greater than ever in our city's history.

It is vital therefore that the city controller be independent of any political machine, and that he not be dominated by any politicians, in or out of city hall. This is one place where there should be no team play, or co-operation.

I make only one pledge, therefore. If elected I will do the job according to law, free from the control of any faction, group or individual."

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted
GOMER W. EMERY

Several Hurt In Auto Accident In Highland Heights

Car Skids On Slippery Road And Two Cars Are In Collision Wednesday Evening

Two automobiles were partially demolished and several persons were treated for injuries at the Jameson Memorial hospital following a collision on the Highland Heights road just north of the city limits about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

According to reports given to State police who were on the scene a few minutes after the crash, Howard D. Cummings, of R.D. 5, East Brook was traveling south on the Highland Heights road toward the city while Everett Pander of 2308 Highland avenue was traveling north on the same road.

The road was slippery from a rain that had fallen and Cummings car went into a skid landing on the north bound lane of traffic, and crashing into the Pander automobile, State police report.

The injured were: Mrs. Goldie Pander, aged 37, lacerations, and contusion of left kidney, admitted to hospital; Robert Dunmire, 21, same address as Panders, abrasions and contusion of forehead, lacerations, treated at hospital and released; Gerald Pander, aged 14, treated for nose bleed; Harry E. Pander, contusion of left side of chest, treated.

Cause of the accident was attributed by State police as "driving too fast for conditions."

LAURENT DAUTHILLE KAYOS JOHNNY GRECO
MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Laurent Dauthille, France's latest gift to the middleweight ranks, knocked out Montreal's Johnny Greco, Canadian welterweight champion, in the fifth round last night before 21,000 roaring spectators.

The Frenchman was the complete master of the fight, winning every round except the third which he lost on a foul. His two-fisted barrage midway through the fifth heat was too much for Greco. Two sharp rights at close range followed by a stinging left hook sent the Montreal Italian reeling to the canvas where he took the full count.

Koppel Methodists Plan Home-Coming

35th Anniversary To Be Observed At Church Sunday Afternoon, August 14

Yarly home-coming of Koppel Methodist church, route 18, will be observed Sunday afternoon, August 14, at 2 o'clock in the church. At that time members of the congregation will celebrate their thirty fifth anniversary. Families will also attend the program.

Old friendships will be renewed, while new ones will also be made. Ministers who have served the church and former superintendents of the Bible school will take part in the service. A free lunch will be served at 4:30 o'clock. A good attendance at the program will make this perfect year for the Koppel church, of which Rev. William R. Wigton is pastor.

Cuts Leg With Axe In Accident

William Kriebel, 22, R.D. 1, Parkers Landing, employed by the Asplund Tree Co., accidentally cut his left leg with an axe while cutting a tree, Wednesday at 2 p.m. He was treated for lacerations in the New Castle hospital, and later discharged.

Special Events At Harbor Street

Last Friday the children of Harbor street held a "Backward Day". People of the neighborhood probably thought they were seeing things or else not quite sane when they saw these oddities coming down the street. But upon second glance, they realized these curiosities were merely members of the Harbor Playground out on another "special event" day.

All the clothing worn by the children was backwards, from dresses, hats, to even their shoes. After some parading by these youngsters, and a decision by judges, it was decided that Dick Cameron receive first prize. Patty McGuire was awarded second prize, and David Llewellyn captured third prize.

On Wednesday of this week, the annual Bum's Day was held. Bum's of all descriptions turned out in full regalia. First prize was awarded to Bud Arrow, who was a typical bum with his dirty face, dark glasses, old pipe, and patched pants and shirt. Second prize went to Jimmy McCummins. Donna Llewellyn won the third place.

Judges for the event were Arlene Bodendorfer, Donna Bodendorfer, and Shirley McFarland. Recently a wiener roast was held for fifty of the playground participants. Games, relays, and softball was enjoyed by the group. A shoe scramble ended the event. All the shoes were put into a pile, and the children had to hunt for their shoes.

Active Week At West Side

Even though the last third of the playground season has arrived, the boys and girls at West Side playground still manage to keep themselves busy. A badminton set has been added to the playground equipment, and the court is in constant use.

Last week, a scavenger hunt was held, and Paul Hughes and Floyd Mac Donald were the winners of sundae at a local dairy store. This week's special event was Bum's Day, and all sorts of outfits were seen. First prize, for the "biggest bum" went to Joy Deiger. Chuckie Hughes won second prize for being the funniest bum. The smallest bum, and winner of third prize, was Ronnie Brown. Judges were Dick and Bob Carr.

A hopscotch tournament is planned for Thursday, and a picnic will be held Friday. Next week's special event will be a treasure hunt.

The duck hawk, swiftest of all birds, can fly 180 miles an hour.

RHODES CLASS HOLDS PICNIC AT CASCADE

Mrs. Rhodes Sunday school class of the Central Presbyterian church held a picnic at Cascade Park Tuesday evening with 21 members and guests present.

Guests of the class were Mrs. Tucker Hockman, Mrs. Marie Patterson and Miss Marjorie Steffler. The group enjoyed games and contests after a delicious picnic supper.

Mrs. Bertha Montgomery was in charge of the arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Sam Hague, Mrs. Charles Loveridge and Mrs. Alice Coryea.

BRAINY ROBOT

NEW YORK, (INS)—Elektro, the seven-foot-tall mechanical man built by Westinghouse Electric Corp. engineers, "thinks" with a 60-pound brain made up of a photo-cell, 82 electrical relays and a signal light. He can smoke cigarettes and count to ten on his fingers.

INJURES FINGER

Donald Kubeck, 18, Pittsburgh, was injured Wednesday evening at 10 o'clock, when his middle finger of his left hand was caught in a car door. He suffered lacerations and received medical aid in the New Castle hospital.

Communist Peril To United States Cited By Budenz

University proved one of the most forceful and most informative speakers heard in this area.

The aim of Russia is world conquest," said Mr. Budenz. "This fight against Communism is not so much a political and economic fight as it is a fight of moral issues. To achieve their aim, Russia has the Fifth Column and in this country it is the Communist party."

He went on to explain "The form of the organization in the United States is like a tree; the roots are the men like Gerhard Eisler and J. Peters, who function underground, but are the direct representatives of Moscow. The trunk is the open party, with men like William Z. Foster. The branches are the clubs and women, who in public life, profess to be non-Communists, but are in reality Communist under orders. The instructions go from the roots to the branches, and Stalin's iron curtain makes it possible for many of them not to be known."

Asks Question
"Why is it?" Mr. Budenz asked, "that the United States finds itself in a position unable to check Russia's advance in the direction of the Atlantic and the Marshall Islands?"
"The United States does not understand the nature of this foe. We have turned our backs on Poland and China, when these countries needed us most to combat Communism. Our refusal to help these countries constituted a betrayal. It was a great blow to the national defense."
"Russia has an aim," the speaker pointed out, "after China, Japan is next; then the Philippines, Hawaii and Alaska. All of these countries are destined to be victims. The Communist forces later plan to strike us on the west coast."
(These statements are not merely opinions of the speaker. Mr. Budenz is now an ex-Communist, and who for ten years was a member of the party, stated that these plans were being made while he was still a member of the party.) Since 1945, Mr. Budenz realized the fallacy of the Communist party, and thus renounced the party and returned to the Catholic church.)

Continuing he urged for a better understanding of the character of the Communist party.

Triumph Of Materialism
"Communism is a triumph of materialism. By materialism I mean the denial of Divinity, not the accumulation of wealth. We have been blind to the direct logic of materialism. The denial of God, founded upon the belief that men should be regarded as animals, and that there is no God and no spirit."

"Materialism, Communism," Mr. Budenz stated with emphasis, "has produced a slave state, physically, intellectually and spiritually. Physically, the people are confined to concentration camps; intellectually, they are not permitted to disagree, and they think, act and breathe as Moscow decrees; and spiritually, the denial of God, or the belief in God; and the denial of others to speak of God. The fifth column, although not large, has a large influence," the speaker said.

Cites Danger
Mr. Budenz was prone to warn the audience of the danger that lurks. "The real danger in Communism," he cited, "is the many men and women who travel under the guise of non-Communism, and who operate here. They cannot be distinguished at once. They are clever, and on the surface are fine, well educated young men and women. But they can be discovered."

"A great many of Communists have been exposed by the Newsletter Counter-Attack, published in New York, a publication which publishes under great odds, but which is always correct in naming Communists. In Hollywood alone, many Communists are the highest paid screen and script writers and a few directors," Mr. Budenz announced.

"But in conclusion, America can undertake this great task," he stated. First "America must learn how to pray. Second, participate in this Democracy, by writing to your president, and congressmen. President Truman is a servant as well as a leader, but he must hear from the people. Appeal to him for aid to China, and for the aid of the Polish. Third, know all about Soviet Russia. Know how the Communist party operates. Learn about the slave labor camps, and the false adoration the party has of Stalin. Read books that will assist you in this, one of them being, "Force Labor In Soviet Russia," published by the Yale University Press."

"Let's not say Can the United States defeat Communism? Rather, let's say, Will the United States defeat Soviet Communism. It will, with prayers, effort and participation in our government, we will win the battle for mankind."

Mr. Budenz was the guest of honor at a 5 o'clock dinner at the Hotel New Penn, attended by members of the Catholic day committee and the clergy of Lawrence county.

Program Continues
W. F. DeCarbo, program chairman introduced the speaker. The general chairman, Dom Cioffi extended the welcome to the large crowd, and thanked all the committees.

"The Catholics of the county have cooperated wholeheartedly," he said.

Rev. Fr. C. H. Becker, spoke in behalf of the Lawrence County Priest Forum. He urged all not to lose the main purpose of life—do not forget God, he said.

The Red Coat band under the direction of B. J. Biondi presented an entertaining program of stirring march music. At 9:30 o'clock dancing began at the Rainbow Terrace, and the day ended with a colorful display of fireworks.

During brief intermission, prizes were awarded to the lucky winners. A $500.00 war bond and Catholic Bible was presented to the largest family present, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fee. The oldest person attending the outing was Mrs. Festus Flynn, 89, of St. Mary's parish, and she too received a war bond and Catholic Bible.

Guests who arrived from the greatest distance were Mrs. Nick Casbarro, Mrs. Ann Gebbia and David Kay, all of Los Angeles, Calif. They received prizes.

Over 14,000 Hot Dogs
Statistics usually prove one thing or another. And as far as the kiddies are concerned, these few facts will indicate just how good of a time they had.

There were 14,000 hot dogs and buns consumed. Twenty men, a la assembly line fashion, were kept busy every minute. Two cases of mustard and two cases of ketchup, made the "dogs" a little more tasty. Six hundred cases of pop, seemed only a drop in the bucket; and six hundred cases of ice cream cups managed to make the youngsters happy.

A first aid station was in the picnic grove and aside from minor incidents, the day was enjoyed without any major accident. Now and then, a youngster became lost, within few minutes the child was returned to its parents.

Car Has Short, Firemen Called
Seventh ward firemen were called to 19 West Cherry street shortly after 11 o'clock last night.

A short circuit near the battery of a car owned by Nick Viell of the address was causing difficulty. When firemen arrived there were no flames and no visible damage.

New Sub-Station Put In Operation

New sub-station of the Pennsylvania Power company, on Hillcrest avenue, Neshannock township, was put into operation this week, it is announced by company officials.

The new station, under construction for over a year, will service the entire north side of the city, it was reported. Its capacity is practically double that of the old station on the Pulaski road, which formerly serviced the North Hill.

Electricity from the transmission lines, servicing the northern part of the county, was shut off temporarily when the final connections were made earlier in the week.

Tests show that powerful new insecticides help meat animals grow better, freeing them from annoyance so they have more time to graze.

Progress Reported In Secret Meetings With British Chiefs

American And British Chiefs Continue Talks On Combined Defense Planning

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—The American and British joint Chiefs of Staff reported "good progress" Wednesday in their first secret talks on combined defense planning under the Atlantic Pact.

Admiral Louis Denfeld, U. S. Chief of Naval Operations, said just before the second session began this afternoon that he believed a defense organization might be set up before Dec. 31.

Previous estimates have been that the complicated organization among 12 nations could not be created before the summer of 1950.

Admiral Denfeld said after this morning's conference: "We made good progress in a very cordial atmosphere."

The group which had met under the strictest of security regulations, lunched afterwards at the Princess Grace residence of U. S. ambassador Lewis Douglas.

On Technical Level
Informed quarters said the discussions were on a purely technical level.

Norwegian defense chief Gen. O. Berg and the Army, Navy and Air Force chiefs of staff of Norway arrived in London for talks with the U. S. chiefs Thursday.

Gen. Berg told newsmen: "Our main interest in the conference is cooperation among the Atlantic Pact nations."

"We are also interested in equipment for all three services which we hope to obtain both from Britain and the United States."

Acheson Expresses Great Confidence In U.N. Secretary

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson expressed "great confidence" Wednesday in U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie and the secretariat of the world body.

Acheson answered by letter a request sent to him by U. N. acting secretary general Byron Price protesting what he called "irresponsible attacks" on Lie and the secretariat by a witness before the Senate judiciary subcommittee. The witness represented U. N. as dominated by communist agents.

Acheson in effect disavowed the mysterious "witness No. 8" and said he was not aware of the person's identity.

Referring to charges in the testimony that U. N. was run and "terrorized" by communists and that Lie favored the employment of communist sympathizers, Acheson added:

"I am confident that a situation like that described by the anonymous witness would not be tolerated."

Mt. Jackson Boy On 5,000 Mile Trek

Lewis Crawford, field scout executive of Washington, Pa., and William Waggett (shaking hands with Scout Robt. McCullough), district commissioner, in charge of the trek.

Robert McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. McCullough of Mt. Jackson is one of fifteen Boy Scouts who has left Washington, Pa., for a 5,000 mile high adventure trek to the National Philmont Boy Scout ranch at Cimarron, New Mexico, where they will spend four weeks hiking through the 135,000 acre ranch. Most of the hiking will be done on horseback with burros carrying their equipment and food. Before returning home the group will visit Grand Canyon.

Robert McCullough is a Star Scout in Troop 20, sponsored by the North Beaver Garden club. Scout McCullough joined the troop at the age of 12 and has been active in the troop for the past five years. In carrying thru with spirit and interest of the eight point of the Scout law, "A Scout Is Thrifty", Bob worked and saved his money so that he might make this trek.

ERECTING HOSPITAL
BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Work is underway on construction of a new one and three-quarter million dollar hospital in Bradford.

The foundation is expected to be completed by early October. The 200-bed institution is slated to be ready for occupancy by the Fall of 1950.

The Suez canal is about one hundred miles in length.

Steel Union Ends Its Presentation

Presidential Fact-Finding Board To Hear Steel Companies Starting August 11

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—The CIO United Steelworkers union wage and pension demands before the presidential fact-finding board Wednesday and hearings were recessed until Thursday, Aug. 11 when the steel industry will begin its case.

The three-man board, began hearings in New York on July 28th with CIO President Philip Murray leading off for the steelworkers union, which he heads.

Murray asked for a 30-cent an hour "package" increase for 1,000,000 steel employees and asserted the industry is "amassing profits at a staggering rate."

Murray said the concessions would include 12½ cents an hour for wages, 11.23 cents for pensions and 6.27 cents for social insurance.

Another union witness, Robert Nathan, a Washington economist, told the board the steel companies can pay out the age demands of the union, lower their prices and still make big profits.

The final union witness was Murray W. Latimer, an insurance consultant, who finished his testimony today on the social insurance phase of the union's demand.

The steel companies will have eight days in which to present their defense against the unions "fourth round" wage increase requests.

WAMPUM

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

In observance of the fourteenth birthday anniversary of Gene, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. King entertained a group of his friends at a surprise party last night at their home.

Games and music were diversions of the evening with the award going to Carol Mohr. At the conclusion of the activities a buffet lunch was served. The honor guest received array of useful gifts.

Out of town guests included: Brook Hill, Tom Shingleton, Ronald Kellner, and Charles Lutton from Ellwood City.

WAMPUM NOTES

Mrs. Charles Aiken and Miss Margery Adams are spending 2 weeks at the Christian church camp at Mill Run.

Mrs. Peral Dindinger was an Ellwood City visitor Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hick and granddaughter Abblett, and Miss Wenona Kelly visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly.

Ranchers in the Imperial-Coachella Valley region of California fought a caterpillar invasion with walls of fire. Trenches and furrows were plowed in fields, filled with gasoline and then set afire to ward off thousands of crop-destroying insects.

Gray's Elegy in a Country Churchyard was written while the poet lay in the leafy country churchyard of Stoke-Poges, in England.

Highland Heights Road Improvement Program Planned

Work Will Be Started Soon To Relieve Slippery Condition Of Road North Of City

Residents of Highland Heights and motorists who have occasion to use the Highland Heights road between the city and New Wilmington will welcome the news that the State Highway Department intends to relieve the dangerous slippery condition of that highway during rainy weather.

Authority has been granted Alfred Martin, county highway superintendent to place a coating of heavy stone and oil on that road between the city limits and the intersection of the Neshaunock Falls road. Since the detour on the New Wilmington road, Route 18, two years ago, the Highland Heights traffic artery has been like a sheet of glass every time a little rain falls.

The work which is to get under way in a very short time, will eliminate this condition and put a safe drivable surface on the highway. The work will be done in such a manner that no detour will be necessary during the progress of the stone application. Maintenance crews of the local department will undertake the job.

DOSSIER CITY, LOUISIANA—Opal Koonce, pilot of a crop dusting plane, escaped serious injuries when she failed to pull up soon enough at the end of a dusting run on the R. J. Viola plantation Wednesday. She was rescued by Raymond L. Head of Benton, La., who lowered her to ground with a rope.

IN THE OPEN

A sudden loud complaining in wild mallard language disrupted my evening battle with the weeds in the garden rows. It was in the midst of a bitter rear-guard action against the fourth generation of "billy-buck" to appear this season when Mrs. Mallard sounded the alarm. Something was amiss on the wide eddy just behind the house.

I pulled on a few more clothes for protection against the creek-side tangles and headed across the neighboring field toward the scene of turmoil. The rank growth along the creek was well over my head, but I broke down a passageway and finally stood on the soggy edge of a long pool.

Just across the stream, in the semi-protection of an overhanging bush, the plainly dressed matron circled nervously and kept up that nasal racket. This uproar had increased in volume as I smashed my way through the tall weeds. Then I saw what had caused her apprehension.

Half Grown Mallards
Some thirty yards upstream were two half-grown mallard ducklings, cruising about contentedly under the curious eye of another outdoorsman, who was draped half across a little willow in order to watch these small fry. Mrs. Mallard had set up the hue and cry in an attempt to draw the youngsters away from this interloper, but those trustful ducklings cruised happily about, unmindful of the warning.

There's a heart warming story behind the mallard family. The drake arrived on a neighboring farm as a half-wild youngster a year ago. He was content to loaf around with the domestic ducks for a time, but then his wild nature prompted some exploratory trips. These took him on short flights all over the valley, until he knew all the choice spots in the creek.

He wintered with the farm ducks, finding the board and lodgings good, but taking an occasional "walk" through the upper air to satisfy his free spirit. This Spring, by some strange wild magic, he lured a mate down out of a migrant flock and immediately went to housekeeping along the creek.

Only occasionally does he go "home" to the farm pond, planning in all alone for a short visit when there is no one about.

My valley informants report that there were originally eleven ducklings in the brood, and that this number has now dwindled to the blacktop road at a high promontory where I could watch the storm parade across the hills.

Coursing outriders headed the procession, dappling the countryside with tentative sprinkles as a sort of prelude of things to come. The sun-warmed blacktop sent little whirlpools of steam aloft as these first cool drops made contact. Next came the advance guard of the main storm. A long low column of menacing dark clouds moved ponderously by, iced with a froth of white spume thrown up by the driving wind.

This column rolled by not more than a half-mile distant from my hilltop reviewing stand. I could see the great sheets of rain falling out of the clouds to sate the receptive earth, while jagged lightning tore great holes in the overcast to let even more water through. The following thunder jarred its way from hill to hill, fitting accompaniment to the tremendous cavalcade.

Finally the clouds closed in and the whole sky poured out a smashing deluge. Mile after mile this downpour chased me as I sped along the country roads. Eventually I outran it, entering a wondrous sparkling world of dazzling sunshine, rain-freshened, cool and altogether lovely.

State To Remove Route 19 Detour Next Wednesday

Announcement was made today by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, that the detour on Route 19 at Dixie Inn on the Perry Highway will be lifted at noon on next Wednesday, August 10. The detour which has been in effect since June 27, brought traffic between Pittsburgh and Erie through the city using Route 88, 422 and 108, Ellwood City and Harlansburg roads. Route 19 traffic between Pittsburgh and Erie will be permitted to use the newly constructed portion of highway at Dixie Inn.

However the report issued by L. J. Curran, district engineering of District 10, at Indiana, states that the detour on Route 422 between New Castle and Butler will remain in effect for approximately four weeks yet. Work where the old and new routes join at Mt. Chestnut is not complete yet and will take some little time.

Twelve miles from what is now Pittsburgh, Gen. Edward Braddock and his troops were defeated in 1775, in the French and Indian war.

WEDDING DATE SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY FOR JIMMY STEWART
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4—(INS)—Actor Jimmy Stewart and Mrs. Gloria Hatrick McLean will be married at 5 p. m. next Tuesday. Testimonials Are Easy To Secure In Russia

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—For free in Russia you can get even more unbelievable testimonials than any capitalistic cold cream or liquor company could buy for a couple of thousand dollars.

And the Russian embassy's USSR information bulletin solemnly prints them for American consumption with a deadpan monotony that makes you wonder what kind of borsch the boys and girls have been sampling lately.

Exhibit A is earnest-looking Zoya Akutina, one of 140,000 June graduates of Soviet high schools and colleges. Zoya has just received a degree from the Moscow Institute of Law.

Here is the bulletin's version of her comment:

"As a pupil in secondary schools I often used to read or listen to the radio broadcasts or articles and speeches by A. Y. Vishinsky, the eminent Soviet jurist and today our minister of foreign affairs, and I never failed to be impressed by the profundity of his thoughts and the logic of his reasoning."

Exhibit B is Vassili Loskutov, an agronomist. He says sturdily:

"During our student years we were able to look ahead into the future with confidence, knowing that the Stalin constitution guarantees Soviet citizens the right to work."

"Now my former classmates have gone off to 75 regions of our country to bring advanced science to the collective farms; they help collective farmers speed the progress of Socialist agriculture—the greatest and most mechanized agriculture in the world."

Except that Alexandra Utyuzhova is an exceptionally grimaced young girl engineer and Igor Sichenikov a young blonde doctor, the blurbs are about the same.

Expect President Would Veto House Passed Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)

—A Republican farm leader in the Senate says he would expect President Truman to veto the House-passed bill extending 90 per cent of parity price supports for another year.

Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont believes that Mr. Truman could not afford to let the legislation stand in view of the firm opposition expressed by Agriculture Secretary Brannan.

And there is a possibility that the extension bill may be sent to the White House. The Senate may also approve it for lack of a better answer.

A Senate Agriculture subcommittee gets together today for another try at working out compromise legislation.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico, former secretary of agriculture, is proposing a bill with a general price support scale ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

But the tricky job of writing support formulas remains to be done.

Anderson wants new permanent legislation to be passed this year. Aiken agrees with him on that score. The Vermonters think it will be dangerous to continue high wartime price supports for another year. Anderson states his position this way:

"We've got to have legislation quickly if we're going to get it. We ought to have permanent legislation. This problem will be harder to deal with in an election year."

Laurel Avenue Has 'Bum's Day'

Everybody has his day—even the bums, who turned out in full force at Laurel Playground on Wednesday, and created a modern "hobohemia" against a background of swings, see-saws, and sliding boards.

The dubious distinction of being the most natural looking bum in the area went to Sandra Campbell who put even the males to shame with her scraggly beard and mustache and clothes to match.

Not to be outdone in this rags to riches routine was Jack French who gained second prize with a gaudy patched-up outfit. Barbara Baer's attire was considered sufficiently bedraggled to warrant the third place ribbon while Barry French received honorable mention.

Judging was left in the capable hands of Pauline and Mary Christos and Alice Mitsos.

Prince Philip Is Given Seagoing Navy Assignment

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—The Royal Navy announced today that Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, has been given a seagoing commission—an appointment which may take him away from Princess Elizabeth and his baby son, Prince Charles, for two years.

The navy said that Philip is to serve as first lieutenant aboard HMS Chequers, a destroyer now on duty with the Mediterranean fleet at Malta.

A normal seagoing appointment lists between 18 and 24 months, but furloughs are possible during the tour of duty.

It was understood that Prince Philip's seagoing appointment as a first lieutenant—effective October 18—was made at his own request.

There was no indication that the princess will follow the duke to Malta. She will most likely remain at Clarence House in London.

The duke is slated to be one of 15 officers aboard the Chequers. As executive officer, he will be responsible for discipline and the daily routine.

A bodyless fish is living a more or less normal existence at the Sydney, Australia, aquarium. A scientist explains the phenomenon as due to an injury sustained in early life. The fish has no tail and its body ends just below the gills.

Castle Trio To Play At Beaver Falls Water Show

According to Walt West, supervisor of the Geneva college aquatic show scheduled for 8:30 p. m. August 5 at the Morado pool in Beaver Falls, the entertainment won't be confined to the water.

One of the highlights will be the appearance of the Castle Trio and their entertainers, well-known local radio artists. The young performers are under the supervision of Blue Sinutko of New Castle and they have entertained numerous church and civic groups in the district. One of their recent engagements was at the 1949 annual Roundup dinner sponsored by the Greater New Castle association at the Cathedral.

Also included on the program are Abbie Miller, drum major of the Geneva college band, who will twirl from the high diving board, and Miss Alice Riddel from New Brighton, who will sing several selections.

N. LIBERTY

New pews, a gift of the four Offutt boys, John, Bill, Harry, and Tom, were placed in the Presbyterian church here last week. The gift was made in honor and in memory of their mother, Mrs. Jennie Offutt who was a resident of North Liberty for many years. The community was saddened by the death of Wilbur Patterson, whose funeral was held on Tuesday.

Mrs. Jay Burns of New Castle, visited Mrs. William Dale last week.

Jack Kays of Meadville, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kays.

Dickie Stitt, of Coraopolis, is spending his vacation with his uncle, Howard Stitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stokes and children, of Erie, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. George.

Mrs. Charles Rodgers and Marilyn Rodgers, of Plain Grove, visited Mrs. Hadly on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Oakes, visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lewis, of Brookville, over Saturday and Sunday.

Student Experiment Helps Wayward Boys

EASTON, Pa., Aug. 4.—(JNS)—A dozen vacationing Lafayette college students were pleased to learn Tuesday that their experiment in curbing juvenile delinquency in Easton is paying off.

Last spring the students took 12 "street boys" under their wings. All of the youngsters had been in trouble with the law and were classified among the "hardest" of juvenile delinquents.

Probation officials had seen little hope for the boys who roamed the streets, stayed away from school and committed petty crimes.

But the college students became "big brothers" to the kids, had them as guests at their fraternity house, played games with them, and talked good citizenship into them.

Gradually, the youngsters became better boys and not one of them has been in trouble with the law since.

But the students had to leave Easton for the summer vacation period and feared that their experiment would be forgotten and the steps taken to curb juvenile crime would be in vain.

This is to inform those "big brothers" that the Easton Junior Chamber of Commerce has taken up the challenge and interested other organizations in the formation of a permanent boys' club.

Firemen, Auxiliary Picnic Plans Ready

Group, With Families, Will Picnic At East Palestine Park On Tuesday, August 9

Members of the North Beaver Township Fire Department, assembled on Wednesday evening, in the vocational room of Mt. Jackson high school, with Mrs. Samuel Craig presiding.

At the business session, further plans were made for the Firemen, Auxiliary and their families picnic on Tuesday, August 9, at East Palestine, at 6:30 p. m.

Reports were received from various committees, and plans made for future activities.

Cards on other games, were the diversion of the evening, and prizes were captured by Mrs. Clifford Ferree, Mrs. Bill Goldoo and Mrs. Elmer Shaffer.

A delicious lunch was served by the social committee, Mrs. Lloyd Crawford, Mrs. Donald Craig, and Mrs. Samuel Craig.

The group will have their next regular meeting at the vocational room, on Wednesday, September 7, with Mrs. Clifford Ferree and Mrs. John Benson, social committee.

Missionary Group Has Picnic Dinner

At the home of Mrs. P. A. Metz, of the Cleveland Mill road, members of the Women's Missionary society of Mt. Jackson U. P. church, gathered on Wednesday. There was a good attendance.

A splendid picnic dinner was served at noon. The invocation was given by Mrs. I. E. Wisner. The tables were nicely decorated with flowers.

After dinner, the group viewed the Metz flower garden, with a period of reminiscing.

SEVENTH WARD NOTES

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Petrie of Mahoning Methodist church, have returned from a month's vacation. They visited in Jamestown and Chautauque Lake, N. Y., and with the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Austin, of St. Thomas, Canada.

Mrs. Tony Conti of West Washington avenue, is confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. Robert Heaton and son

Bobby, of Toronto, Ohio, are visiting at the home of the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Tindall, of Willow Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crea, daughter Peggy and son James, Jr., are visiting with the former's mother, Mrs. Blanche Crea, and his sister, Mrs. Cal Garrett, of Corapolis.

Sylvia Ann Cunningham, of R.D. 7, Mahoningtown, is visiting with Sally Jean Morgan, of South New Castle Boro, for a few days.

Mrs. Nellie Park, 522 West Madison avenue, and Mrs. Agnes Cochran, of 210 Pearson street, are spending a few days, with their sister, Mrs. Martha Kezel, of South New Castle Boro, for a few days.

Mrs. Alice Brumbaugh, of 302 West Madison avenue, who has been confined to Jameson Memorial hospital, since February, with a fracture hip is much improved.

Mrs. Charles Higgins, of Shirleysburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brumbaugh, of Philadelphia, are visiting at the home of W. H. Stubbs, of 302 West Madison avenue, and Mrs. Alice Brumbaugh, who is a patient at Jameson Memorial hospital. Mrs. Brumbaugh is a sister of Mrs. Smith, and an aunt of Mrs. Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. R. Brumbaugh.

It is reported that while there was quite a haze or fog this morning, at eight o'clock, on the east side, there was no fog in the ward, this is unusual.

On Friday afternoon, "Bums Day" will be observed at Mahoningtown playground. This event generally arouses much interest among the folks of the ward.

Members of the Opportunity Circle of Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, will meet Friday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. L. M. Wilkinson, 501 West Clayton street. Mrs. Gertrude Wilson will be associate hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ruehle and children of North Cedar street, have returned, after vacationing for two weeks. They visited with Mrs. Ruehle's brother, Charles McGuire and family, of Gun Lake, Mich., and Mr. Ruehle's brother, Elton Ruehle and family, of Detroit, Mich.

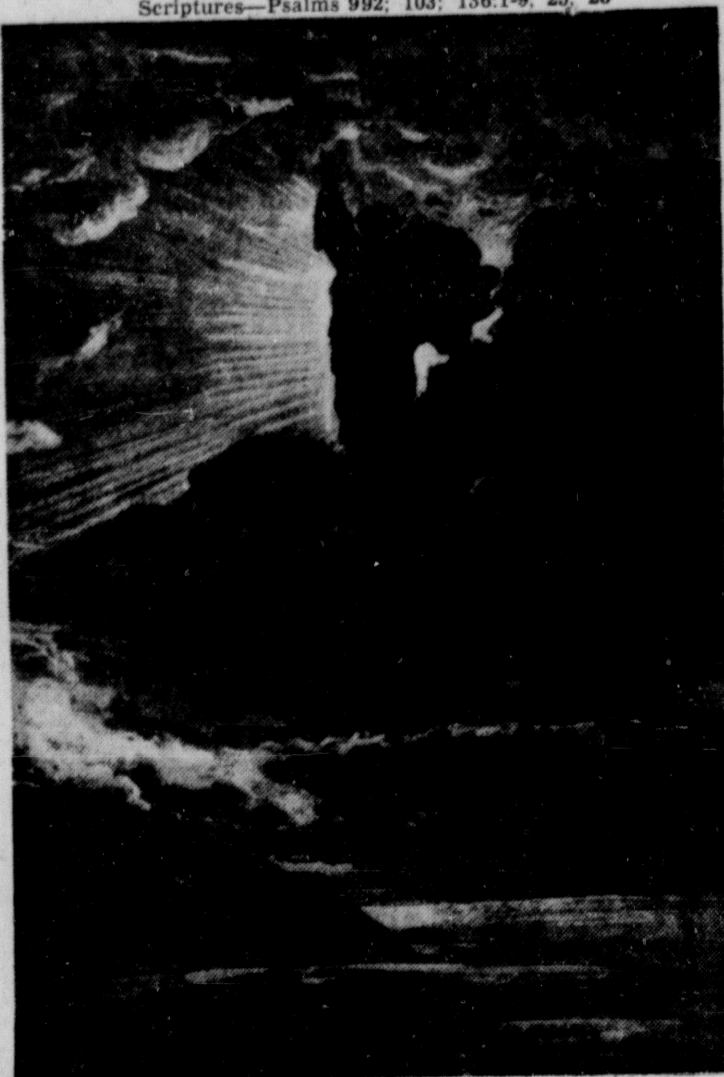

TV EXPANSION CAMDEN, N. J., (INS)—RCA Victor has announced it will extend television set production to a third plant with the installation of new equipment in its Bloomington, Ind., factory. One-third of the 226,000 square feet in the building will be devoted to TV production.

The coconut tree yields 80 to 100 nuts yearly.

PSALMS GIVE THANKS TO GOD

SONGS OF PRAISE RISE TO JEHOVAH

Scriptures—Psalms 92; 103; 136:1-9, 25, 26

The creation of light.

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto Jehovah."—Psalm 92:1.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
This lesson is about thankfulness—more especially, praise to God for all His goodness to men.

It is good in these days, when our hearts are largely concentrated on the ills of the world, to remember our blessings and to give thanks for them.

This is a lesson which should be taught to children from the time they are able to say "Thank you," so that they may remember it all their lives.

Adults are not always gracious in their appreciation of what others do for them. We have all experienced ingratitude in those for whom we have done favors. Possibly we have not always shown those who have been good to us how much we value their kindness. We should be reminded of these remissions and correct them.

During the reigns of David and his son, Solomon, the Hebrew people enjoyed the highest peak of well-being. The nation was triumphant in battle-renowned for its feats of arms and for its prosperity and the wisdom of its kings.

David, when he was alone, pondered these things and burst forth into praise for all the goodness of Jehovah. He had been a humble shepherd lad. Now he was a powerful king reigning in splendor over a people who loved and admired him. Thus he burst forth:

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord; and to sing praises unto Thy name, O most high."
"To shew forth Thy loving kindness in the morning, and Thy faithfulness every night."

"Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psalter; upon the harp, with a solemn sound."

"For Thou, Lord, hast made me glad through Thy work: I will triumph in the works of Thy hands."
"Oh Lord, how great are Thy works! and Thy thoughts are very deep. A brutish man knoweth not; neither doth a fool understand this."

The members of the Sunday school class might be asked to write down a list of their blessings. They probably would be surprised what a long list it would be. Surely we should take time not only to think of all the things for which we should be thankful, but to give praises and thanks for them.

The psalmist mentions every instrument of praise that a temple could furnish, and then adds the music of a thankful heart to them.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name."

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases. Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies."

"Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's."

In spite of the horrible cruelties that have been practiced on thousands of people in recent years, there are those who have escaped in miraculous ways and now are living happily—and we hope thankfully—renewing their lives in friendly lands.

We would like to quote all this great Psalm (103) but space forbids it. It can be read aloud in a short space of time, however.

The 136th Psalm "was known in the liturgical language of the Jews as the Great Hallel. At the laying of the foundation stone of the second temple it is recorded that the priests and Levites "answered one another in giving thanks to Jehovah, saying, For He is good and His loving kindness endureth forever toward Israel."

"O give thanks unto the Lord; for He is good; for His mercy endureth forever."

"O give thanks unto the God of gods; for His mercy endureth forever."

"To Him that by wisdom made the heavens . . . To Him that stretched out the earth above the waters: To Him that made great lights: The sun to rule by day; The moon and stars to rule by night: For His mercy endureth forever."

East Palestine Man Is Held In Dairy Robbery

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Beaver Falls police today held Paul V. Guy, 21, of East Palestine, O., who they said has admitted holding up a dairy store

Monday night and forcing three women and a man to walk for two hours at gunpoint.

Guy, arrested in a Beaver Falls tavern, was identified by the three women who went on the walk.

The Ohioan told police he lost the $100 taken in the holdup gambling.

6,000 PUNCHBOARDS TAKEN
McKEESPORT, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Allegheny county had some 6,000 punchboards on its hands today after a series of raids on four McKeesport wholesale firms yesterday.

District Attorney William S. Rahauer ordered the raids as a result of many protests from residents of the area.

The punchboards will be held until cases are cleared, Rahauer said.

The firms raided were the City Candy company, 2,000 boards; McKeesport Candy company, 1,600 boards; Mann-Del-Leum Candy company, 1,500, and Apter Brothers, 1,000.

A gas-mask chemical, invented in 1946, made from the peroxides of sodium, potassium, magnesium and certain organic substances, renders the worst of known war gases harmless.

Secret Testimony Is 'More Lulling' Than Alarming

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Two house foreign affairs committee members said today that secret testimony by administration experts on communist military power in Europe proved "more lulling than alarming."

The three experts are to return today for further questioning in a closed committee hearing on President Truman's one billion, 450 million dollar program to rearm friendly nations.

Rep. Fulton (R) Pa., had this comment on Wednesday's day-long review of the military situation in Europe:

"They gave us figures on the military situation behind the iron curtain. They told us what the situation is in Russia."

"The figures were more lulling than shocking or alarming."

A Democratic committeeman said that "more lulling than alarming" was a "good way to sum it up."

The committee is attempting to get down to "brass tacks" on the arms program.

Fulton said the administration witnesses appeared to make more of a case for the opposition than they did for the bill.

The experts are Dr. Lloyd Berkner, special assistant to Secretary of State Acheson; the army's Maj. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer and Edward T. Dickinson, Jr., of the European recovery program.

Mrs. Roosevelt Sought To Quit As U.N. Delegate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—President Truman disclosed today that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has submitted her resignation as a U.S. delegate to the United Nations, but that he has persuaded her to retain the position.

The President told a news conference that Mrs. Roosevelt's resignation was a normal and customary action which she has taken each year since he appointed her to that post.

Mr. Truman was asked whether the resignation had anything to do with the controversy between Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Roosevelt over federal aid to education being extended to Catholic schools.

The President said he did not believe so. He said that Mrs. Roosevelt has submitted her resignation each year in order to give the President a free hand. He said her resignation came to him recently at the usual time and in the normal course of affairs as she has done each year.

He said that he declined the resignation and that Mrs. Roosevelt is returning to the United Nations in her regular capacity.

YOUTHS 'TAKE OVER' PENTAGON

AFTER DEFENSE SECRETARY Louis Johnson addressed student delegates attending the American Legion's "Boys' Forum of National Government" in Washington, Charles S. Brown, Jr., seated, of War, West Virginia, "Boy Secretary of Defense," and Norman Cohn (right), Waterloo, "Boy Secretary of the Army," literally "take over" Johnson's office in the Pentagon. Johnson told the youth conference that it will probably be unnecessary to reimpose the peace-time draft. (International)

TWINS LEARN OF U.S. LIFE

HOUSTON, Tex.—(INS)—Sleeping on a 90-degree angle and riding 50 miles with an Irish setter in their laps were only two of the hardships a pair of English born Syracuse university students endured in hitch-hiking from Syracuse, N. Y., to Houston.

When they started their long trip the 19-year-old twins, Clare and Kenneth Gompertz, had only $10.

But they were determined to spend the summer with their mother, Mrs. Edith Gompertz, who lives in Houston.

Twelve days later the twins, worn out but happy, arrived in Houston. They had had 19 "hits."

Sleeping on a 90-degree angle came when they rode with a man driving a truckload of new cars.

Clare and Kenneth rode up front with the driver during the day and slept in the new cars which were placed at 90-degree angles at night.

Clare said she had her worst experience of the trip with the Irish setter. The dog was very fond of her and persisted in licking her face for 50 miles.

Ken, too, had something to worry about during that leg of the jaunt.

The couple gave them a lift had a double-barrelled shotgun in the front of the car.

Cattle Slaughter Declines In State

HARRISBURG.— Nearly 275,000,000 pounds of beef cattle were slaughtered in Pennsylvania during the first five months of this year. The State Department of Agriculture reports from Federal-State surveys.

The liveweight total compares with 313,700,000 pounds slaughtered in the same period last year.

Declines in slaughter poundage for calves hogs, sheep and lambs also were reported from the January-May period. Calf slaughterings dropped from 47,600,000 to 44,700,000 pounds liveweight. Hogs declined from 237,700,000 to 231,000,000 pounds. Sheep and lambs dropped from 10,300,000 to 6,700,000 pounds.

Slaughtering of all meat animals for May were down from the same month last year. Beef cattle dropped from 60,000 to 54,000 head; calves down from 70,000 to 68,000 head; hogs down from 221,000 to 185,000 head; sheep and lambs down from 21,000 to 17,000 head.

FORT FOR SALE

GALVESTON, Tex.—(INS)—A fort that once was one of the country's strongest coast defense points is for sale. It is Fort Travis on the tip of Point Bolivar near Galveston. The War Assets Administration suggests the 97 acres and 27 buildings be used as a recreation center.

When Wake Forest and Duquesne officially open the 1949 collegiate football season in this section here on Saturday, September 17, it will be one of only two Saturdays during the season in which there will be conflicting games.

Dutch Elm Disease In Lawrence County Pathologist Reports

Fact that the Dutch Elm disease is now in Lawrence county was confirmed today by A. H. Bauer, pathologist from the extension plant of Penn State college, who was at the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension offices here.

The Dutch Elm disease is carried by the Elm Bark beetle which kills the branches of the tree and may kill the entire tree if not checked in time.

According to Bauer, the best way to prevent the spreading of the disease is to spray the trees while they are still healthy starting about the first of May. Trees should be sprayed three times at intervals of a month with a solution of one pound of 50 per cent wettable DDT to every 10 gallons of water, making sure that the trunk and branches of the tree are completely covered.

Trees that are completely diseased should be cut down and burned to prevent the spreading of beetles to healthy trees or else the bark should be removed and the tree sprayed with the DDT solution. If the tree is only partly diseased, the diseased branches should be cut off and burned.

Bauer repeatedly emphasized the fact that the disease is very serious and if it is found in the area, it is best to spray the trees while they are still healthy rather than take a chance on waiting too long.

In 1492, Duke John IV of Brabant founded the famous university of Louvain, Belgium.

Miss America Says French Bathing Suits Too Brief

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Non-drinking non-smoking Bebe Shopp, 18-year-old reigning Miss America, took a firm stand against the French style pantie-bra bathing suit.

The beautiful, milk-fed farm girl from Hopkins, Minn., who is making a tour of the Riviera and other famous European beaches to study swimming fashions and costumes, denounced "those brief bathing suits." She said:

"They're indecent. I'm dead against the French-style bra and pantie costume. I don't think they're good for American girls."

The winner of last year's Miss America title at Atlantic City said she did not have to resort to artificial means of enhancing her figure which she said is "just right."

She proved her point by posing for photographers in a 100 per cent American two-piece suit which was "attractive" but certainly not "scanty."

Russia's Largest Source Of Uranium In Czechoslovakia

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, wartime deputy chief of naval intelligence, says Russia's main source of uranium is Czechoslovakia.

The admiral, in a broadcast Monday night, said that Russia also gets the vital atom bomb element from Hungary, Saxony and from her own territory in central Asia, primarily the Fergana valley and Turkistan. But, he added, the Czech cities of Yachimov and Prizbram surpass other Soviet sources because the uranium there is found in pure veins.

STUDENT HAS TO HAVE DRUG; WALKS INTO POLICE TRAP

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Narcotics charges were placed against a 22-year-old brilliant college student who told police he was so desperate for a shot of heroin that he knowingly walked into a police trap to get it.

Under arrest is Irving Bennett, student at the City College of New York where he was described as an outstanding student. Young Bennett was arrested in a room where detectives said they found 22 heroin capsules valued at $150 each.

Police were waiting for Bennett when he arrived, and it was then he told them he suspected their presence but "had" to have the drug.

McCloy To Discuss Control Problems Of West Germany

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—John J. McCloy, U. S. military governor in Germany, arrived in Washington Wednesday for top-level discussions on the future civilian control of the western occupation zones.

McCloy's plane landed at 1:55 p. m. EDT Wednesday at the Washington National Airport, where he was met by U. S. Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and other State and Defense department officials.

The military governor told newsmen that the Berlin airlift, which is being tapered off, could be "restored a relatively short time if necessary." He added:

"Dealings with Russia in accordance with the Paris agreement are continuing, and I hope they will be productive. It is too early to say much about them."

McCloy said that he would consult with State and Defense department officials on matters relating to the administration of Germany, including appropriations for financing the occupation.

Two Widows Ask $300,000 Damages

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 4.—(INS)—The federal court was asked by two Scranton widows to order the Ontario and Western railroad to pay them $300,000 damages for the death of their husbands in a crossing accident during the mine workers' "memorial" holiday.

The victims were James Kerrigan, 37, father of six children, and his brother, Gerard, 38, father of five. They were killed when their truck was struck by a train near the Waddell Coal Co.

The widows ask $150,000 for themselves and their children.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 4.—Hollywood's screen tough guys have taken a vote and announced their own selection of the year's toughest tough guy.

The winner by many a hiss is Dan Duryea.

On the ten-man "jury" making the choice were movie toughies Alan Ladd, James Cagney, Humphrey Bogart, Lon Chaney, Burt Lancaster, Peter Lorre, Bruce Cabot, Barton MacLane, J. Carroll Naish and Boris Karloff.

Wins by Walk

Actors entering the contest were asked to list ten mean things they have done on the screen during the past year. Duryea merely listed ten "naughty" things he did in Paramount's "Manhandled" and won by a walk. They were:

(1) Knocked his leading lady (Dorothy Lamour) out cold twice.

(2) Killed a person in a unique fashion.

(3) Turned stool pigeon.

(4) Tried to send an innocent mother to prison for a crime he committed.

(5) Pretended to be in love with his leading lady for the express purpose of "using" her.

(6) Stole jewelry valued at $100,000.

(7) Murdered his partner in crime.

(8) Searched a woman's purse.

(9) Tried to throw his leading lady from a rooftop.

(10) Chewed chewing gum in public.

It was the latter "offense" that clinched Duryea's selection, the "jury" said.

STARTED AS BOXERS

Several of Hollywood's celebrated male personalities can look back on early careers in the boxing ring. They all hung up the gloves before managing to acquire much in the way of fame, fortune or cauliflower ears.

Bob Hope, currently making with jokes instead of left jabs in his 27th movie, "Where Men Are Men," has one of the briefest fight records of any of Hollywood's ex-leather pushers.

He was a young man in Cleveland, and being quick with his feet and hands as well as with his wit, decided to pick up some extra green stuff by boxing in the city's amateur clubs. He billed himself as Packy East, but after his second fight changed his mind about the whole thing.

"I hit the other guy's glove so hard with my chin that I knocked myself out," rapid Robert recalls. "So I retired and left the fight game to fellows with harder chins than mine."

Flynn Good Fighter

Swashbuckling Errol Flynn as a globe-trotting sailor of fortune barnstormed across New Zealand, putting on exhibition bouts with traveling carnival shows. Later he battled his way to the quarter finals in the Amsterdam Olympic boxing matches.

George Raft fought 25 bouts as a bantamweight around New York sporting clubs. But after he was knocked out the seventh time, he called a halt to putting up his profile as a punching bag.

Robert Preston still cherishes the medal he won in Golden Gloves competition, but nowadays is perfectly content to follow the fights from a ringside seat.

Robert Ryan was a Dartmouth boxing champ during his four years in college.

Bob Mitchell, George Murphy, Richard Carlson and William Demarest are a few of the other marquee names who put on the padded gloves for a time during pre-Hollywood days.

Congress, in 1946, passed the National Mental Health Act, which marked the first time in history that any nation recognized mental health as a serious problem worthy of the attention of money of its government.

Gov. Dewey Orders Acceleration Of Work Program

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has ordered immediate acceleration of New York state's huge program of public works as a bulwark against further unemployment.

The governor, making public the first report of his "watchdog committee" on unemployment and unemployment conditions, noted that the group recommended expedition of the public works program.

The committee, headed by Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi, reported there is "a serious but not alarming problem of unemployment in the state."

Radio Kills 2,400 People A Year On Crime Programs

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—A statistician on the staff of Variety—who may have had nothing else to do on a hot day—has come up with the estimate that radio kills 2,400 persons a year on crime, thrill or soap opera programs.

The figure demon, reporting his calculations in the current issue of the show world's Bible, says his study discloses that each of the four major networks "kills" about 50 characters a week—give or take a few corpses.

He then challenges "Murder, Inc. or any other organized crime unit to match these figures."

JEFFERSON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Pa.—(INS)—Charles M. Ewing, Washington and Jefferson college curator of archives, placed a letter from Thomas Jefferson in the museum recently. The letter, printed on sheepskin parchment, was located in an old farm building near Mt. Lebanon, Pa.

Dr. Womer Speaks To Kiwanis Club

Kiwanians on Wednesday got some first hand information upon the workings of the City Health department.

Dr. William A. Womer, city health director, addressed the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon in The Castleton and outlined the work of his department.

The examination of milk, of water, the scrutiny of public eating places, inspection of the sewage disposal plant, all of these were gone into in an interesting fashion.

President John McGrath presided.

HEALING SERVICE AT HIGHLAND HEIGHTS

Miss Wanda Reiber, a student of God's Bible school, Cincinnati, O., will conduct a service of healing Saturday evening, August 6, at 7:45 o'clock in Highland Heights United Brethren church. Miss Reiber, a member of the local church, is on vacation from her studies.

OLD DWELLING

COLUMBUS, O.—(INS)—Ohio archaeologists have uncovered an 1,100 year old housing site near Wilmington, O. Raymond S. Baby of the Ohio State museum said an excavated mound revealed post molds of houses. He reported that at least 18 persons were buried in the mound.

EDENBURG

The Bible school members of the Christian church will hold their annual picnic at Yellow Creek park in Struthers, O., August 5.

John Hofmeister and family of Oil City spent Sunday evening at the home of his father, I. M. Hofmeister.

Winton Ramsey and family of Brookfield spent Sunday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Morrow.

Jeannie Roberts, nurse at the Jameson Memorial hospital, has returned home from her vacation. Mrs. Roberts' mother, who has been visiting with her, left for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Ethel Newton, at Portersville.

RESEARCH AIMS
NOTRE DAME, Ind.—(INS)—Improved television reproduction, a better understanding of sulfadiazine drug production and an effective means of measuring X-ray waves a million times smaller than a visible light wave are the goals of three research projects underway at Notre Dame.

Bills Are Aimed At Curbing Of 'Five Percenters'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Two bills were introduced in the senate Wednesday to curb the activities of Washington's influence-peddling "five percenters".

The two senate bills, offered by Sens. Mundt (R) S. D., and Ferguson (R) Mich., are designed to curb "five percenters" by forcing them to identify themselves and by setting up an agency to give businessmen information on government contracts.

The Mundt bill would: 1. Require all persons who, in return for a fee, help businessmen get government contracts, to register with congress in much the same manner as lobbyists are required to register.

2. Set up an "office of information" within the new centralized government purchasing agency which would provide businessmen with all the information they need to apply for government contracts.

The Ferguson bill would: 1. Require all persons holding government contracts of any sizeable amount to inform the agency with which they deal whether they employ outside "consultants" or former government employees to help them get the contracts.

2. Set up an information agency similar to the office provided in the Mundt bill.

The bills were introduced after the two senators met with Jess Larson, administrator of the office of special services—the government's new purchasing agency.

Central Church To Have Supply Pastors

Outstanding ministers have been secured for Central Presbyterian church during the month of August while Dr. Robert M. Patterson, pastor of the congregation, is on vacation. Services are being conducted in the Cathedral.

Dr. W. J. Holmes, retired Presbyterian pastor, will speak Sunday morning, August 7, at 11 o'clock, while Rev. Peter H. Monsma, pastor of Grove City college, will occupy the pulpit Sunday, August 14. Rev. Seth Morrow, minister of the First Presbyterian church, Pottsville, will preach Sunday, August 21. Dr. Charles B. Wingerd of Chautauque, N. Y., has been secured as the speaker for Sunday, August 28. Dr. Wingerd served as pastor of Central church prior to Dr. Patterson's pastorate.

Says Television Sales Will Jump

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—A prominent radio distributor predicted that sales of television receivers will jump as much as 50 per cent as the result of producers entering the low-price competitive market.

Irving Sarnoff, executive vice-president of the New York Distributors for Radio Corporation of America, made this forecast coincident with the announcement that RCA-Victor will introduce eight new television receivers this month at substantially lower prices. The new reduction in cost of the new television models was attributed to new mass production methods.

Keeping the oven temperature low when roasting fowls or roasts will reduce the shrinkage and improve the flavor of the meats. The low temperature results in less spattering of grease, too. Put the small roast or fowl in an oblong porcelain enameled baking pan. The pan can be placed on a low oven rack, leaving the top rack free for baking muffins, desserts or vegetables while the roast is cooking. Oven meals save both time and fuel.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Here's the answer to every mother's prayer! This amazing new diaper cover, called DRYFOLD, puts an end to unsanitary, irritating rubber pants which often cause babies to cry. DRYFOLD pins right on with diapers in one fast operation. Tucks in around your baby's legs so no soaps, but it's tight or binding. Baby stays cool and fresh 24 hours a day. DRYFOLD allows free circulation of air so diaper dampness evaporates and baby doesn't get chafed and sore with diaper rash. Easy to wash and dry in seconds.

Made of Soft, Transparent Plastic
DRYFOLD Diaper Covers are made of the finest quality, softest plastic. They never get stiff and scratchy like rubber pants... never develop the disagreeable rubber smell. Have special reinforced corners to protect DRYFOLD from being torn by diaper pins. Sizes to fit all babies from infants to 2 year olds. Save yourself time and laundry, get a DRYFOLD Diaper Cover today!

New Castle And Uniontown Open Three Game Series Here Tonight

Herb Churchill Slated To Face Coal Barons

Colorful Program Arranged For All-Star Grid Classic

New Castle and Uniontown open a three-game series at Flanery Memorial Field tonight at 8 o'clock. This will be the final appearance of the Coal Barons here this year.

Manager Billy Mongiello has nominated Herbert Churchill, his tall right-hander to face the Barons. Manager Wes Griffin of the visitors was undecided on his selection of a hurler until game time.

Battle For Seventh
It's a fight for seventh place that starts here tonight. New Castle by losing at Erie last night 9 to 2, as the Uniontown team whipped Butler 5 to 3, slipped back into the cellar nine percentage points below the Barons.

The Nats are due to start clicking and it is hoped that the next three games can be put on the right side of the ledger, and that Youngstown can take care of Butler. The Nats are hot hitting with men on base.

Family Night Friday
Friday will be "Family Night" at Flanery Field, Mongiello announced. There will be over $200 in prizes for the fans. The entire family can get into the ball park for $1.25 admission. Dad, Mom and all the children, up to 16 years of age.

"Family Night" was slated for last Saturday but was rained out. The veteran Frank Wagner is slated to try for his 16th win of the year tomorrow night. Wagner has been beaten in only six games, being one of the leading hurlers in the Mid-Atlantic league.

Erie Sailors Win
(Special to The News)
ERIE, Aug. 4.—The Erie Sailors held fast to first place in the M-A league's second half pennant scramble by handing New Castle a 9-2 trimming here last night and splitting the two-game series.

Bob Spreser, ace of the Gob mound staff, went the distance for the 11th time this season and boosted his record to 14 wins against five defeats.

Ty Corbett started for the Nationals and did well enough, but five glaring errors behind him kept him in such hot water that he gave way to southpaw Mike Giardullo in the sixth inning.

Giardullo Checks Ties
Giardullo stopped the Sailors cold. He didn't give up a hit or a run the rest of the way, but the damage had already been done.

Erie scored in all save one of the first six innings and Spreser never had a bad moment. His mate, shortstop Harry Musselman, helped him by belting doubles on his first three trips to the plate and scoring three times.

The Nats got a run in the fifth when Corbett doubled to left after Herb Tufts walked. They scored again in the next frame when Gazzola singled, Kiel walked and Torrey doubled to center.

Swat Rumors

ROMANCE rumors, linking the names of Yankee slugger Joe DiMaggio and Junior Staudish (above), a willowy, blond dancer, are being batted all over the field. In New York, Joe said romance hasn't got to first base in his life, whereas Junior insists she hasn't a "steady." Either a hoaxer, or mayhap a press agent, is suspected of report spreading. Paul Russo Will Race At Canfield

CANFIELD, O., Aug. 4.—Paul Russo, eighth place winner at Indianapolis this year, and his young nephew Eddie Russo, will be driving the cars to beat at the Canfield Midget Auto Races this Saturday Night, August 6th.

Paul Russo has been going great guns throughout the Michigan-Ontario circuit for the past two weeks, winning two consecutive events at Cleveland the past two Sundays, and defeating the Michigan-Ontario Champion and Canfield Mid-season Champion Ralph Pratt.

Pratt, who was out of competition for the past weekend with mechanical difficulties in the Jim White Offenhauser, will be back in the Canfield lineup.

Har-Brack and New Castle have met four times on the gridiron and New Castle has won three and lost one. Har-Brack is here October 21.

As the date for playoffs under the Shaughnessy system draws closer, the importance of each league game increases.

By HOWARD SIGMANT
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The Brooklyn Dodgers, rejuvenated pitching staff and all, awoke this morning and found themselves right where they were a couple of weeks ago, trailing the Cardinals in the torrid National League pennant race.

When the Brooks hit the hay last night they possibly dreamed lightly of pennants and world series dividends and the way they forged into a tie with the Cards by pasting Pittsburgh 10 to 5 in an afternoon game.

Cards Retain Lead
But it seems St. Louis doesn't like company. The Red Birds put an end to the Bums' short-lived stay in their upper domain last night by shutting out the stumbling Boston Braves 7 to 0.

True, the St. Louis lead stands at a precarious half-game margin, but Eddie Dyer's crew seems to have no "when it counts and they fear no 'new' Branca, 'new' Barney, or Newcombe.

Bessemer rallied for four runs in the last of the sixth to take a 7 to 3 decision from Hillsville last night in County league action.

Three other contests were rained out.

Hillsville dropped into fourth place, one-half game behind Koppel, as a result of the loss.

Most of the scoring in the game was done in the sixth inning. Bessemer took an early 3 to 0 lead but that vanished in the top of the sixth when Ambrose Anderson walked four batters to force in one run and Frank Penwell's single drove in two more. Paul Johnson was called in from centerfield to take over the mound duties.

Umpires' Vision Fails
Johnson hit home plate with a wild pitch and the runner on second streaked for third. He was thrown out by Curly Anderson but Hillsville claimed that the ball hit the batter in the box after hitting the plate. The umpires did not see the play and Hillsville plans to protest. Johnson then retired the side and got credit for the win when Bessemer got four in its half of the sixth.

Bob Penwell hit Madrid with the bases loaded to force in one tally. Samsa's single plated two more and Paul Johnson drove in the fourth run with a double, the only extra-base hit of the contest.

Start Mail Sale Of Grid Tickets

Sale By Mail Of Football Season Tickets Will End On August 26th

New Castle High football fans may now order their 1949 season tickets by mail. The price for the eight home games in the open is $8.00, and $14.00 under cover in the steel bleachers. Fans may order the same number of seats as last year, and will be assigned to approximately the same location.

Additional seats may be ordered but it may not be possible to locate them with the original group. No mail orders will be taken after August 26th. Public sale will begin August 29th at the North Street school, and all tickets not ordered previously will be placed on sale. Tickets ordered by mail will be sent to the fans by August 29th.

Make all checks payable to New Castle Senior High School, J. H. McKenzie, business manager.

EDEN-HILLERS WIN
The Eden-Hillers baseball team defeated the New Bedford team 5 to 4 in a North County league game last night at New Bedford, with Tricolo the winning hurler.

Laboratory Keeps First Place Lead In Pottery League

Laboratory kept their first place position in the Shenango Pottery Golf League last night by taking 7½ points at the Sylvan Heights golf course.

Chuck Ferry took medalist honors for the evening with a low score of 39. Steve Williams took low net honors with 41-7 for a 34.

Martin Siefert and Tony Champ were the blind bogey winners for the evening.

Long Climini took low gross and low net honors in Friday nights play, but lost the limelight to Bob McKibben, who scored an eagle 2 on number 13 hole.

Walter Pilch took the blind bogey prize for the night.

Laboratory, captained by Tom Knapp, continues to lead the second half of the league with 30 points, Engineering with 25½, Bisque Warehouse with 19, Handle Casters with 19, Jiggermen with 16, Sales with 18, Dinnerware with 18, Rounders with 13 and Office Boys with 9½.

New Castle's 1949 edition of the high school all-star football game will be different from any other previously presented here for two reasons.

The senior high school stars selected for the August 12 presentation were picked according to the type of football they played in school, "T" or single wing, rather than on a geographical basis as in previous years.

Coaches of the two teams have been picked accordingly. The football game itself will be as much a battle between two famous formations as it will a bottle of individual performers.

Arrange Program
The second important difference is the pre-game and intermission program that has been arranged by Ralph Gardner, who is taking charge of arrangements for the High School Coaches Association.

Mr. Gardner's idea is to not only give local football fans a top-flight grid attraction but also to add as much color and spectacle to the game as possible. A football game without the latter just doesn't seem like a game these days, and the August 12 presentation will be a game.

Game Starts At 8:30 P. M.
Game time has been listed as 8:30, but pre-game festivities start one hour earlier. New Castle senior high school's famous marching band takes the field at 7:30. The group of red, white and black bedecked musicians, under the direction of Joe F. Replogle, will give a preview of formations and music to be seen or heard early in September when the Red Hurricane begins weekly performances on the stadium green.

The band will be assisted by the new cheerleaders, under the direction of Mrs. Lester Patton, in a half-hour demonstration.

To Introduce Players
At 8 o'clock coaches of the teams, players and their dads will be introduced from a loud speaking system down on the playing field. From 8:15 to 8:25, while the players are warming up, visiting notables and dignitaries of the community will be introduced from the field.

The highlight of the pre-game activity should be the playing of "Angels of Mercy" by the school band with a large delegation of student nurses in white uniforms assembled on the field. This part of the program is symbolic of the games sponsor, the Ladies Auxiliary of the New Castle hospital, The National Anthem and the kick-off follow at 8:30.

Fontaine Kayos Sammy Mastrean

Kayo Punch To Stomach Ends Bout In Second Round, Chuck Gibbons Defeated

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4.—(INS)—One left hook was good for a knockout victory last night for Juste Fontaine in the second round of his bout with Sammy Mastrean at the Zivic Arena in Pittsburgh.

The two Pittsburghers barely had started their scheduled 10-round, and Mastrean seemed to be in control, when Fontaine cut loose with the winning blow to the stomach after one minute of the second stanza.

Carried From Ring
Mastrean was carried from the ring, but recovered shortly from the painful sick, and boxing commission physician Dr. Jim Flynn said he was all right.

It was Fontaine's first fight in Pittsburgh in more than a year.

In the co-feature, Billy Lima of Miami, O., took a split decision from Herky Kiminsky of McKees Rocks. The 3,500 cash customers still were debating the decision as they filed out of the jammed arena.

Curtis Coles, Pittsburgh, unanimously beat Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, in five.

WHITE SOX SECURE JOHNNY OSTROWSKI

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Johnny Ostrowski was under contract today with the Chicago White Sox in a player deal which sent Bobby Rhawn to Los Angeles.

The White Sox also gave the Los Angeles club an undisclosed sum of cash for the 28-year-old former member of the Chicago Cubs.

Ostrowski, who plays either third base or the outfield, will report to the White Sox in Washington Saturday.

He presently is hitting .325 and has slotted 32 home runs.

BRITISH WALKER CUPPERS PRACTICE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(INS)—Britain's Walker cup golf team began practice sessions today in preparation for its Aug. 19-20 matches with the U. S. squad.

The Britishers, who are working out at the Winged Foot course, arrived in this country yesterday.

They also plan to compete in the U. S. amateur at Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 29-Sept. 3.

FRENCH MODELS SEW DURING STRIKE

WITH FRENCH SEAMSTRESSES determined to stay out on strike until their demands are met, Parisian fashion houses have resorted to drastic measures to combat the situation. Above, mannequins of a big Paris concern try their hand at sewing. The seamstresses, who are paid fifteen cents an hour, are holding out for a four-and-a-half-cent raise. (International)

GAR WOOD'S NEW NO-ROLL LINER OF TOMORROW

NEARING COMPLETION at Detroit is Gar Wood's new twin-hulled ship Venturi, 188 feet long, 40 feet wide. The 120-ton vessel's deck is 22 feet above water, and forms a bridge between the two hulls. The rush of Wood says air rushing between the hulls absorbs shock of waves and prevents rolling. The rush of air also acts as a lift. The 62-year-old inventor spent 28 years and $600,000 developing the vessel, which he believes is the "liner of tomorrow." It slices right through waves. (International)

ORDER YOUTH IN

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna has ordered in a number of Croton youths on Saturday morning for investigation.

It is complained that the youths have made nuisances of themselves at the Croton playgrounds, have interfered with the playground routine and have used abusive and obscene language.

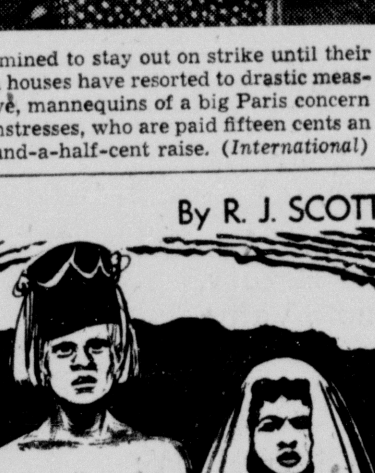

HE ROPES IN CASH WITH NYLON

THERE'S A REASON for that smile on cowboy Toots Mansfield's face. He is one of the first cowboys to adopt a nylon lariat for calf roping, and has steered $25,000 in prize money his way thereby. Although nylon is twice as strong as manila rope, it has not been universally adopted on the range because it does not pay out as fast. Mansfield lives at Big Springs, Tex. (International)

New York Stocks

STOCK MARKET IS IRREGULAR

Gold-Mining Issues Feature Early Trading In Market This Morning

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Demand for gold-mining issues featured an irregular stock market in early dealings today.

Homestake was bid up to a new high for the year at 43, for a gain of 1 1/4 points, while Dome duplicated its previous top at 17 1/2, for a gain of 3/8.

Old-line pivotal leaders held within a narrow trading range. U. S. Steel and DuPont were slightly lower, while General Motors, Chrysler, and Republic Steel were unchanged.

Radio-Keith-Orpheum attracted buying in the amusement group, gaining 1/4 to 8 3/8 on an initial transfer to 3,000 shares.

Sinclair and Socony Vacuum were unchanged in the oils, while International Nickel edged 1/8 higher to 28 1/2 in the metals.

Rail shares showed few important price changes. The bond market was mixed, with New York Central and Missouri Pacific issues slightly lower.

Nurses With Polio

Experience Asked To Register Here

In view of the rising figures of infantile paralysis in the nation, the Lawrence County Chapter of the Red Cross is trying to obtain the names of Lawrence county nurses who have had poliomyelitis experience.

Though no cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in the county, it is necessary to have a list of nurses available to help out in case an outbreak should arise.

Harold Russell Is Candidate For Amvet Commander

DENVER, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Harold Russell, World War II veteran who has brought hope to many disabled ex-servicemen, is now a candidate for national commander of Amvets.

Russell announced his candidacy in a letter yesterday to Bill Murphy of Denver, national executive committeeman for Colorado.

Russell, who lives in Boston, lost both his hands in an explosion at an east coast army camp where he was teaching soldiers how to use grenades and similar weapons five years ago.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(INS)—The "basic black dress" will be supplanted by a brighter basic next fall—so, ladies, get ready for red!

Top fashion designer said today: "No smart woman can be chic without a bright red dress in her wardrobe. It's the new basic color, surpassing black, brown and navy." Fira Benenson, who makes her reds in sheer wool jersey, called them "the perfect complement to brown or black furs." Adele Simpson labels scarlet the "best foil for the new black velvet coats and jackets."

Plain, straight-skirted red dresses are being shown in New York with matching hats and darker red shoes. Accompanying handbags and gloves are primarily black.

THIEVES GET ANGRY

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Burglars broke into a Kansas City wholesale furniture house, apparently because they found no money and slashed up $300 worth of upholstery on new furniture.

Nearly 65 Million Dollars For School Lunches In Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(INS)—Nearly 65 million dollars is being meted out by the government to provide healthful lunches for the nation's school children during the next 12 months.

All of the 48 states, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Alaska, the Virgin Islands and the District of Columbia will get a share of the funds. More than one billion school meals are expected to be served, benefiting one fourth of the country's younger students. An additional $17,250,000 has been earmarked to buy special nutritious foods including orange juice, cheese and peanut butter.

Aside from the benefit to rural school children, farm families have another stake in the program in that substantial quantities of surplus food crops are channeled into it.
